10,000 Take Part in Birthday Festivities Of State University

MANY RICH MONEY GIFTS ANNOUNCED

Former Governor Lowden of Illinois As Chief Speaker Declares Tendency To Bureaucracy Menaces Nation

Creation of New Department Is Provided For in Donation From Oakland Woman —Help for Medical Science

BERKELEY, March 23. — That the "Federal bureaucracy" built up by President Wilson at Washington during the war must be broken down at once if the rights and liberties of American people are to be protected under a true democratic form of government was the cry today of former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency in Chicago last year.

Appearing as the principal speaker at Charter Day exercises celebrating the fifty-third anniversary of the founding of the University of California, Lowden declared to an audience of almost 10,000 persons assembled in the Greek Theater that further "centralization" of activities in the national capital meant destruction of the principles of self-government fostered in the Constitution.

Coupled with Lowden's address as an important feature of the exercises was the announcement by President Barrows of gifts to the university aggregating a value of many thousands of dollars. Through the generosity of Miss Annie Alexander, former resident of Oakland, President Barrows announced that a museum of paleontology would be established with $8000 for an unlimited period to support and provide professors for research activities in paleontology and historical geology.

$100,000 BEQUEST FOR MEDICAL SCHOOL

A second gift announced was a bequest of $100,000 from the family of the late John C. Coleman for the establishment of a memorial in honor of the late John C. and Edward Coleman, pioneers of California. The money will go into an endowment fund for the department of otology in the university's medical school. Other gifts valued at thousands of dollars were also announced.

In his address on "World Politics and the Larger Citizenship," former Governor Lowden brought applause from the audience by a heated denunciation of Socialism and Bolshevism. No successful government can be built up, he declared, where personal property rights are ignored. Bolshevism he likened to the "Kultur" of Germany.

Upon successful self-government from the smallest village to the mightiest city depends the future of the country, said the speaker. "Bureaucracy" leaders at Washington he flayed as opponents of a democracy and he charged that "bribes" in the form of Federal appropriations have been extended to States and communities as a means of further "centralizing" activities at the national capital.

SOME OF ARGUMENTS OF GOVERNOR LOWDEN

Here are some of the points made by the former Illinois governor in his address.

"The rapid movement toward centralization at Washington must be checked or the value of the Federal principle will be dissipated forever.

"In every nation there must be someone or something supreme, to whom or to which all must yield obedience. In an empire, it is the emperor. In a kingdom, it is a king. In a republic, it is the majesty of the law.

"The primary duty of every political division, no matter how small, is to keep its own house in order. Men are too prone in these days, when disorder threatens, to call for soldiers. The municipality must learn to govern itself when lawlessness appears.

"Private property must remain if civilization is to go on and the more people who own property the higher will that civilization be.

"The path must be kept open for the young man of brains to pass from laborer to the owner of the farm.

HUMAN PERVERSENESS A BAR TO UTOPIA

"Dreams of Utopias have failed because man's perverseness prefers a humble vine and fig tree which he can call his own to a share in a larger and more opulent community life.

"The family is the real basis of a God-fearing state.

"Justice, righteousness, gentleness are words as foreign to the language of Bolshevists as to the language of Militarists.

"Stripped of outward forms, the representatives of the German empire could meet Lenine and Trotsky at Brest-Litovsk upon equal terms."

Today's exercises carried out the traditional observances of years. At 9:30 o'clock black cap and gowned figures began to appear, assembling for the academic procession to the Greek Theater. Gray-haired graduates of other years returned to pay tribute to their Alma Mater and mingled with alert young students

Many Features Mark Festival Of Charter Day

FACULTY and student members of the University of California combined today to celebrate Charter Day, the fifty-third birthday of the institution. Ten thousand people participated.

The Charter Day address was made by former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois. He spoke on government administration and declared that the federal bureaucracy must be broken down if the rights of the American people are to be protected.

The announcement of gifts aggregating a value of many thousand dollars was made by President Barrows.

Another feature was the dedication this afternoon in the Greek theater of a memorial chair, honoring the late Professor William Dallam Armes.

A marble "senior bench" was presented by the 1921 graduating class, honoring the football eleven of 1920.

The freshman class today relieved the sophomores in the guardianship of the Big C emblem.

Packing House Workers Accept Reduced Scale

Agreement Provides Also For Basic Eight-Hour Day. Is Is Announced.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, March 23—Workers in the packing industry numbering more than 100,000, accept the recent wage reductions of approximately 12½ and 15 per cent, under an agreement signed late today by their spokesmen with representatives of the five leading packers.

The agreement as signed also provides for the basic eight-hour day and for extension for six months, or to September 15, of the war-time Alschuler agreement for arbitration of differences.

The wage scale as agreed to corresponds with that put into effect March 7 by the big packers and reduces the wage rate of all hourly paid employees 8 cents an hour and amounts to a reduction in piecework of 12½ per cent.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Employees of the Pennsylvania lines today were served notice that their wages must be slashed.

While W. W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Pennsylvania, was urging before the United States Railroad Labor Board that national shop agreements be abrogated, President Samuel Rea served the wage cut ultimatum on employees.

Rea's notice was conciliatory in tone, but expressed determination of the company to cut wages. No percentage of decrease was named.

The notice said that 70 cents out of every dollar taken in by the road was paid out in wages, which created a deficit when other expenses were met.

It is expected that other roads will follow the leadership of the Pennsylvania.

Railroad unionists were not yet prepared to state what action they will take. Employees, however, are confronted with this situation:

The United States Railroad Board, which was established during the war to arbitrate differences between railmanagement and employees, is powerless to prevent wage reductions because the law creating the board has no teeth in it. All the board can do, according to the transportation act, is to "make public its findings."

National agreements between railroads and their employees forced the roads to carry 176,882 unnecessary employees in 1921, Atterbury charged before the board today.

The roads were forced to pay out over $300,000,000 last year on an "excess pay-roll" due to the national agreements, Atterbury claimed.

Bert M. Jewell, president of the Railway Labor Department of the American Federation of Labor, attacked the accuracy of Atterbury's figures.

Atterbury made a formal statement to the board in which quoted Federal statistics to show the railroad payroll for 1921 was $4,000,000,000.

"In classes of employment covered by the national agreement, 1,206,520 men were employed in 1917," he said. "In 1920 there was an increase of 229,963 men."

"I will disprove the charges of excess number of employees made by Atterbury," declared Jewell. "It will be shown in my formal statement to the board tomorrow that the additional men in 1920 as compared to 1917 were required because of increase in business on the railroads."

WASHINGTON, March 23.—With the two sides understood to have been brought to practical agreement on all major issues, Secretary Davis was ready to resume today his efforts to effect a settlement of the dispute between the five big packers and their union employees by first meeting in separate conference with representatives of the latter. The labor secretary was expected to meet the packers' representatives in further conference later.

BERGDOLL DEMANDED OF GERMANY

Surrender of American Detectives Who Sought To Abduct Rich Draft Evader Is Also To Be Enforced

Washington Threatens Drastic Action To Force Release of Imprisoned Pair; Legion Is Aroused Over Conviction

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The United States has demanded of Germany the surrender of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy Philadelphia draft dodger, and the release from prison of two Americans, Frank Zimmer and Carl Neuf, who recently attempted to capture Bergdoll on German soil and return him to United States custody.

Zimmer, it has been disclosed, is a department of justice operative and Neuf an army sergeant.

The surrender of the Americans has been asked in representations made to the German government through the state department and also through Major-General Henry T. Allen, commander of the American army of occupation in Germany.

Correspondence is being carried on with Germany for the release of the Americans, it is understood, but the negotiations have not yet been concluded.

The Harding administration is understood to be determined to secure the release of the Americans.

Unless the two imprisoned men are freed the matter will be brought up in the next session of congress along with the whole Bergdoll case, Representative Blanton, Texas, said today.

"The whole thing is a disgrace," Blanton said. "The sentencing of the two Americans who attempted to capture Bergdoll is an insult to the five million American soldiers in service during the World War."

JAIL SENTENCES ARE IMPOSED

MOSBACH, Baden, March 23.—Carl Neuf and Franz Zimmer, American detectives, have been sentenced to terms in prison in criminal court here for "illegal assumption of power in attempting to arrest and abduct Grover C. Bergdoll, American draft evader, in Eberbach, last January.

Neuf, against whom a charge of "inflicting bodily injury" has been preferred, was sentenced to jail for fifteen months, while Zimmer's term in prison was fixed at six months.

The additional charge against Neuf arose from a bullet wound suffered by a young woman when a revolver was fired during the attempted abduction.

FOUR GERMANS ARE CONVICTED

Four Germans who were tried as accomplices of the Americans were found guilty and sent to jail for terms varying from five to eleven months. It was shown one had driven the detectives' car and that the other three had accompanied the two Americans on their trip to apprehend Bergdoll in Eberbach.

The men were defended by lawyers hired by the American Legion.

Bergdoll himself was a witness. He told a halting story and so clearly contradicted himself that the presiding judge finally warned him of the strictness of the German perjury laws. While the American draft dodger was on the stand, the hostility of the crowd toward the two detectives was shown by its remarks.

Hisses were frequent and officers of the court made little effort to quell the demonstrations.

Bergdoll is not satisfied with the penal sentences imposed. He boasted to his German friends that he would put the Americans "where the dogs wouldn't bark at them for five years."

Neuf and Zimmer escaped too lightly, according to Bergdoll. "Still," said the deserter, "we've shown these guys they can't pull that stuff in this country."

Bergdoll's limousine, chauffeured by a waxed-mustached, square-headed German ex-sergeant, was the object of a mild ovation as it rolled through the quiet streets of this Baden town. Bergdoll has capitalized his popularity by getting appointed a district food administrator.

LEGISLATURE MAY TAKE INTEREST

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—The California Legislature was preparing today to interest itself in the case of Frank Zimmer and Carl Neuf, now under arrest in Germany for attempting to capture Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, as part of the general movement undertaken by the 91st Division to secure the release of the two American soldiers. William S. Scott, of San Francisco, chairman of the military affairs committee of the Senate, and William O. Hart, of Orange, chairman of the soldiers' and sailors' committee of the Assembly, have been asked by friends who fought with Zimmer in the Argonne, to introduce a concurrent resolution calling upon President Warren G. Harding to intercede in behalf of the men.

Several posts of the American Legion have already responded to the appeal of Zimmer's friends and more are expected to follow suit.

In Los Angeles there is a subscription campaign under way for the purpose of raising funds for Zimmer's defense.

LEGION WILL NEVER LET UP

BOSTON, Mass., March 23.—"The American Legion never forgets and never deserts justice and it never will let up on Grover Cleveland Bergdoll," Colonel Frank W. Galbraith, national head of the American Legion, declared to the United Press today.

Definite action in the cases of Carl Neuf and Franz Zimmer will be taken when all the evidence in the trial in Germany and all other facts have been collected, he said.

RAY OGDEN FACES REDS IN BATUM

LESTER R. OGDEN

Wires That Americans Found Safety on U. S. Destroyer

Lester Ray Ogden of Oakland is face to face with the peril of the Russian revolution in Batum, Georgia, on the Black Sea. American business men got aboard a United States destroyer before that city recently was occupied by Bolshevist forces.

This word, seemingly authoritative, comes by a circuitous route. Sent out by Ogden himself from a gunboat, the message was transported first by wireless and then by cablegram to New York, whence it was received in Oakland today by telegram. The message was received in New York by the Near East Relief.

It explains that Ogden with a number of other Americans and Europeans had remained in the Georgian capital to carry on the work of the Near East Relief. It is added that thousands of refugees from the Bolshevist battles are being supplied with food and clothing.

Ogden, with five other experts in the training and care of children, left New York in October of last year to engage in the work of the Near East Relief among the 110,000 children in its orphanages throughout the Levant. He previously had been director of boys' work at the Oakland Y. M. C. A., and resided at 4028 San Juan street. He was a graduate of the University of California, and had previously seen service in France.

In January, this year, his local friends were informed by the Near East Relief that Ogden had been appointed director of Near East Relief work in Batum. He succeeded Walter Richards and Annie A. Phelps of Cleveland, O., who were transferred from the Batum post elsewhere.

Lenine Appeals To Harding for Trade Relations

Wilson Is Accused of Attacking Russ Without Cause By Moscow.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Asserting that President Wilson "attacked the Russian republic" without just cause and expressing the hope that the new administration will not "persist in obdurately following this path," the Russian Soviet government's appeal to President Harding, which was made public by the State Department late today, called upon the United States to end a condition which is "abnormal and harmful" to both Russia and America, by opening trade relations and proposed to send a special delegation to America to negotiate on the matter.

The note categorically declares that Russia has no intention of intervening the internal affairs of the United States.

The State department would not comment on the note and no statement was forthcoming as to whether an answer would be transmitted. It was strongly intimated that no special passport regulations would be made in order that a special delegation from Russia might enter the country, but that passport of any commission must be secured in the regular way.

LONDON, March 23.—Great Britain proceeded today to establish contact with Soviet Russia.

A commissioner will be sent to Moscow at once, it was announced, to make preliminary arrangements for the opening of trade under the new agreement.

LONDON, March 23.—Newspaper reports from Riga state that the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Soviet armies, stationed in the vicinity of Pskova, are in open disorder and deserting in crowds, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen today.

The Soviet government is reported to have declared martial law in sixteen provinces, the reports add.

Pope Gets $1,600,000 For Child Relief

ROME, March 23.—Pope Benedict XV has received nearly 8,000,000 lire (approximately $1,600,000) for relief of the child war sufferers of Europe, with the United States leading in the list of contributors, it was semi-officially announced today. The Pope's appeal for the juvenile war sufferers was sent out from the Vatican some time ago and the response was instantaneous, it was said.

INDIAN GUIDE IS FATHER OF CHILD, CLAIM

Charges That Have Been Whispered in the Stillman Divorce Case Are Shouted Aloud By Banker's Counsel

Attorney for Financier's Wife, Who Asks $10,000 Month Alimony, Declares Charge on Boy's Legitimacy False

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 23.—The veil of attempted secrecy was ripped from the Stillman divorce scandal today. Delancy Nicoll, attorney for James A. Stillman, openly charged in Justice Morschauser's court, that Mrs. Stillman "took as her companion an Indian guide and had a child by him." He declared six witnesses already had testified to this effect in secret hearings.

Charges which have been merely whispered were shouted aloud in court in the presence of an eager swarm of spectators, as the lawyers wrangled over the question at issue—whether Stillman should be ordered to pay Mrs. Stillman $10,000 a month alimony pending trial of the case. This application finally was taken under advisement by Morschauser. The judge was informed that Stillman's income last year was $536,000.

Although Stillman's charge of his wife's alleged intimacy with Fred Beauvais was openly made, Mrs. Stillman's attorneys failed to bring in the name of Mrs. Florence H. Leeds, who has been mentioned by her. The only reference to Mrs. Stillman's counter-charges was made by Nicoll himself when he reviewed the case, stating, incidentally, "and now Mrs. Stillman makes charges."

SAYS LEGITIMACY CAN'T BE QUESTIONED

John E. Mack of Poughkeepsie, guardian of the interests of Guy Stillman, the alleged illegitimate child, declared that the baby's legitimacy could not be questioned.

"Testimony taken before the referee shows that no other man except James A. Stillman is the father of Guy Stillman. The referee ordered other testimony attacking the legitimacy of the child, Guy, stricken from the record. Nothing is recorded that impugns the legitimacy of the child."

Abraham Levy, one of Mrs. Stillman's lawyers, said:

"Mrs. Stillman fights not only for the life of her self but for the life of her child. She will prove her denial of all the allegations of infidelity made by Mr. Stillman."

"Mr. Stillman takes the position that the gentlewoman who was the mother of his three children took as her companion an Indian guide," Nicoll declared in addressing the court.

Attorney Brennan, for Mrs. Stillman, interrupted, saying, "We are on another matter. All we are here for is to hear application on the part of Mrs. Stillman for $10,000 a month alimony."

STATES STILLMAN'S POSITION IN COURT

Nicoll, however, insisted on his right to state Stillman's position to the court. He then proceeded:

"The testimony in this case shows that the lady whom Mr. Stillman married took as her companion an Indian guide, by whom she had an illegitimate child.

"Mr. Stillman believes this criminal intimacy began in 1918 and lasted until 1919. Mr. Stillman believes it to be his duty to his family to press this case to a conclusion.

"I don't know what must be the feelings of a father who believes that his wife has yielded to the embraces of another man, even though in a moment of hysteria his wife may have implicated herself.

"Mr. Stillman recognizes the fact that she is entitled to defend herself and the legitimacy of Guy Stillman. But the largest sum ever granted in any court in this state was in the Gould case. When Mrs. Gould asked for the same sum asked by Mrs. Stillman—$120,000 a year—the court allowed her $25,000 and $5000 counsel fees."

ATTORNEY DENIES CHARGE AS TO CHILD.

Attorney John E. Mack, representing Guy Stillman, the alleged illegitimate child, followed Nicoll.

"I am not interested regarding alimony for the child," Mack said. "But I want to correct Mr. Nicoll's statement. The evidence does not show that any other person than Mr. Stillman is the father of the child."

Nicoll answered that the "documentary evidence before the court questions the legitimacy of the child."

"There is nothing in the record," replied Mack, "to impugn the legitimacy of the child. All they have is some letters, but neither parent may testify regarding the legitimacy of the child at this time."

Attorney Brennan, representing Mrs. Stillman, interrupted, saying:

"We are not here asking for generosity. We are simply asserting our rights. We are here to confront the affidavits such as that of a member of some Indian tribe captured in the wilds of Canada."

Justice Morschauser interrupted to call the attention of attorneys to what he declared was the "most important thing in the case"—the paternity of the child.

"There is one thing that you both overlooked," Morschauser said. "That is the question of the paternity of the child. While I can't make an allowance to his guardian, the counsel fees in this case should be made to cover his defense. The most important thing, in my mind, is the paternity of the child. I can take care of the question of the alimony from the evidence you have submitted, but this question of counsel fees for the child should have some element of agreement."

ALLIES MAY AGAIN STRIKE AT GERMANY

Defiant Attitude Assumed in Refusing To Pay Billion Marks Arouses France, Who Proposes Further Invasion

Berlin in Reply To Demand of Entente Powers Disputes Figures and Asks That Another Conference Be Held

By EDWIN HULLINGER
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, March 23.—Additional penalties to be inflicted on the Germans were suggested today by the inter-allied reparations commission here. The recommendations will be forwarded to allied capitals tomorrow. Their character was not divulged here.

The commission described the German note received today as an "unqualified refusal to pay."

It was believed the allied reparations commission would consider advancing troops into other rich industrial sections of Germany. Confiscation of property was urged in some quarters, proponents of the idea declaring the German government could reimburse its citizens who lost property in that manner.

French officials especially resented the note. They declared it ignored the demand for the payment set for today and that it showed the Germans still were intent on negotiating a settlement on their own terms and in their own way. The resentment was so keen that the reparations commission was expected to be the center of a fight to "put the screws on Germany."

GERMANY DISPUTES FIGURES OF ALLIES

PARIS, March 23 (by Associated Press).—Germany, in her reply today to the recent ultimatum of the allied reparations commission, refuses to pay the 1,000,000,000 marks gold due on this date and disputes the commission's figures showing a balance of 12,000,000,000 marks due May 1. It is maintained in the German note that the 20,000,000,000 marks which the peace treaty provided should be handed over by May 1 has been more than paid.

The note asks that a joint commission of experts fix the value of the German deliveries on reparations account, but it declares that in any event it would be impossible for Germany to pay 12,000,000,000 marks by the 1st of May. The note concludes as follows.

"If, after the experts have conferred, it is established that there is a deficit in the payments by Germany, she is ready to begin negotiations with the reparations commission regarding the floating of a loan abroad."

The reparations commission met this morning to consider the German reply which was transmitted from Berlin last night.

SAY VERSAILLES TREATY VIOLATED

The Germans' failure to pay is deemed a violation of the treaty of Versailles, which the commission will report to the allied governments.

The allies will then determine what measures shall be taken.

It is commented here that the German experts already have been heard by the commission, which listened to their arguments before fixing the valuation of the German deliveries credited as payments against 20,000,000,000 marks. This valuation, therefore, was considered final, since the treaty gives the commission sole jurisdiction in the matter.

The German reply does not answer directly the commission's demand for a first payment of 1,000,000,000 marks today. (This point, however, is covered on the face of things by Germany's contention of over-payment of the entire amount due by May 1.)

BERLIN DEMANDS ANOTHER CONFERENCE

By CARL D. GROAT.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, March 23.—More conferences with the allies were demanded by Germany today to arrange for indemnity payment. The Berlin government sent a note to the allied reparations commission which stated that Germany cannot pay the billion marks required today.

There was consternation in official circles. While the reparations note setting March 23 as the date for the initial payment, was not regarded as an ultimatum it was [illegible] definite. Some advisers of the government feared that Germany was showing herself too much inclined to obstruct a final settlement and that serious trouble might result.

Nevertheless financial experts in Berlin declared flatly that the sum named by the commission is not available. To attempt so large a payment would wreck the financial system of the country and precipitate further industrial troubles, they declared.

At the same time the [illegible] was the most worried over the possibility that the allies may decide to inflict further penalties. It was known the French were incensed at the German attitude.

There was hope here that the allied commission would reach a decision today and notify Germany whether the matter is open for discussion.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Relapse in Action of Heart Is Reported

BALTIMORE, March 23.—Cardinal Gibbons is critically ill and his death may come at any time, it is said at his residence today. It was said there had been no change in his condition over night. The Cardinal's condition became alarming Sunday night and since that time constant watch has been kept at his bedside.

Cardinal Gibbons was stricken while delivering a sermon at Havre de Grace, December 12 last, and late in 1920 and early in 1921 grave fears were entertained for his recovery. He rallied, however, and during the past six weeks had been able to take automobile rides.

The cardinal's condition remained unimproved this afternoon, according to a bulletin issued by the secretary, Rev. Albert E. Smith.

14 Slain, Scores Wounded When Irish Use Guns

Fighting Reported in Several Districts: Belfast Wires Cut.

CORK, March 23.—(United Press.)—Eight Sinn Feiners were killed today at Dingle, county Kerry, in a three-hour battle with crown forces. The military was ambushed. Twenty Republicans were reported wounded and four policemen were injured.

LONDON, March 23.—Six civilians were killed in a fight between Irish republicans and crown forces at Blarney, according to a Central News despatch from Dublin this afternoon. The Central News correspondent said that fighting broke out while the crown forces were searching for hidden arms. They were attacked and returned the fire of civilians with deadly accuracy.

Nearly three-score persons have been killed in Ireland in the past 72 hours and the death list is mounting more rapidly than at any other time since fighting became severe.

Since Sunday 11 soldiers, 9 policemen and 10 republicans have been killed. In addition 18 others who had no direct connection with either the crown forces or the Sinn Fein met death. More than 100 persons were wounded.

BROTHERS ARE KILLED AS SPIES.

Among the wounded were a woman and a child who were struck by flying bullets during an ambuscade of crown forces in the city at 9 o'clock last night. Both were said to be dying this morning. Two brothers named Skelton were found dead in a field near [illegible]. Both had been shot through the head. The arms were bound and upon the breast of each was a card reading "A Convicted Spy."

The men had evidently been members of the republican army but had been convicted by a Sinn Fein court martial of giving information to the British military and police authorities.

BELFAST, March 23.—(By Associated Press.)—Telegraph wires between Belfast and Dublin were cut last evening.

The authorities today believe the act was in preparation for possible Sinn Fein activity during Easter week.

LONDON, March 23.—Independent Liberals and Laborites were expected to make a joint attack upon the government's Irish policy at today's session of the House of Commons.

It was understood this morning that they intended to press their arguments for a renewal of peace negotiations at the point where they were interrupted last December.

REDS HURL BOMBS IN GERMANY

Public Buildings Dynamited and Shipyards Seized By Communists in An Effort To Stir General Strike

City Hall Wrecked in One Town and Other Structures Taken in Raid; Several Are Killed By Explosions

BERLIN, March 23 (By the Associated Press).—Communist workers seized the city administration buildings in Hamburg today, then occupied the Blohme and Voss shipyards and hoisted the red flags, says a despatch from Hamburg.

Workers in other shipyards quit work and began organizing mass demonstrations, according to the despatch.

In Rodewisch the city hall was virtually destroyed by a bomb which had been concealed in the basement. The use of dynamite against the city administration buildings in Auerbach, Freiberg and Dresden resulted in heavy property loss and the wounding severely of at least three persons. Others were slightly injured.

A twenty-one-year old man was arrested in Auerbach with a sack of dynamite. A companion, who fired at a policeman, escaped. The man arrested said he was from Danzig.

The outrages are believed to be connected with the attempt of the Communists to force a general strike.

In Leipsic, Dresden, Rodewisch and other cities in Central Germany the Communists directed their efforts against courthouses, city halls, public banks and police headquarters. A bomb exploded in the Leipsic courthouse today and blew off the roof, broke all the windows and wrecked the lobby.

Alameda County Government Bill Passes Senate

Measure Allows Supervisors To Receive As Much Pay As Their Clerk.

By AD SCHUSTER.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRAMENTO, March 23.—The Alameda county government bill, which will allow the supervisors an increase in salary that will bring the amount up to, or in excess of that allowed to their clerk, was passed by the Senate today without opposition and without amendment. The bill has yet to be voted on in the Assembly.

The clerk of the supervisors is allowed $225 under the bill, while the supervisors are given $225.

The opposition to the county government bill is still a debatable quantity, Assemblyman E. H. Christian not having declared positively whether or not he will take the floor against the measure. Senator Frank M. Carr, who has prepared a skeleton bill for use in emergency if the governor will not sign the one drawn by the delegation, says that he did not make this move with any idea of intimating to Governor Stephens that it would be acceptable to a part of the delegation if the bill were not signed.

"I have the skeleton ready if it is needed," said Carr, "just as we are protected on other bills. Otherwise, if the governor should refuse to sign the measure we would be left without anything different than the bill now in force."

Carr's action, however, has caused some of the delegation members to fear that the governor will refuse to sign the bill and that the salary increases will not be allowed.

Funds Provided for New Department at University

BERKELEY, March 23.—One entire new department was today made possible to the University of California while other gifts aggregating many thousands of dollars in value were officially acknowledged at the Charter day exercises.

Through the generosity of Miss Annie M. Alexander, for many years a devoted friend of the university, who has pledged a donation for a period of years of more than $8000 annually, the university today began the organization of a new department to be known as the Museum of Palaeontology.

Effected primarily for the advancement of research in palaeontology and historical geology, it is expected that investigations on the fossil mammals and fossil reptiles of the Pacific Coast begun by President John Campbell Merriam of the Carnegie Institute at Washington, formerly professor of palaeontology and historical geology and dean of the faculties in the university, will be continued in the new department.

DR. BRUCE TO DIRECT

Dr. Bruce L. Clark, assistant professor of palaeontology, has been named director of the museum, while E. L. Furlong, assistant in palaeontology, is expected to be appointed curator of the vertebrate collections in the museum.

Included in the staff will be Dr. Chester Stock, instructor in palaeontology, and Charles Camp, to be named vetebrate palaeontologosts.

Investigations in palaeonotany may later be carried on under the direction of the Museum of Palaeontology.

Comprising thousands of specimens of fossil plants, vertebrates and invertebrates, the present collection of the palaeontology department will be turned over to the museum and the department of palaeontology will cease to have a separate existence. Proper organization of this and contemplated other collections is stated to be one of the most important purposes for which the museum has been founded.

Professor Clark today declared it his belief that such an organization as the Museum of Palaeontology will be of great service in carrying on the investigations which in the past, under the leadership of President Merriam, have done much in making the university so well known in the world of science.

MEMORIAL CHAIR FOR PROF. ARMES IS DEDICATED

Members of Players' Club Lead in Ceremonies in Honor of Faculty Man.

BERKELEY, March 23.—A new marble chair was added to the memorial seats in the Greek theater today as a tribute to the late Professor William Dallam Armes, member of the university's English department and first director of the Greek theater.

The chair is a gift of the Players' Club of San Francisco, in which Professor Armes was interested. Messages from stage celebrities from all parts of the world who had appeared in the Greek theater under the direction of Professor Armes were received, while many stars of note attended the exercises.

Ruth St. Denis, dancer, hung a wreath of flowers on the chair in the name of the English Club which Professor Armes founded. The ceremonies were presided over by James K. Fisk, assistant recorder and former president of the Players' Club; T. M. Sanford, associate professor of English, who spoke on the life and works of Professor Armes, and Haig Pattigian, president of the Bohemian Club of San Francisco and a graduate of the university with the class of 1905, who told of Professor Armes' influence in the world of art.

Paul Steindorff, university choragus, presented a program including solos by Miss Lydia Sturtevant, contralto, and Mrs. Mildred Wright, violinist. At the conclusion of the program H. S. King, chimes master, played Beethoven's "Song of Sacrifice" on the Sather Tower chimes.

CARE OF BIG "C" IS TAKEN OVER BY FRESHMEN CLASS

BERKELEY, March 23.—New guardians took over the care of the big "C" on Charter hill today. Each year the members of the sophomore class give up their guardianship of the emblem to the freshmen on Charter day and this afternoon the men of the two classes climbed the big "C" trail to take part in the ceremony.

Although an inter-collegiate treaty prevents any possible invasion of the California campus to paint the "C," the second year men each year keep up the custom of guarding the letter on nights before athletic games with Stanford University.

At the ceremony today the sophomores formed within the arms of the letter and after a presentation speech transferred places with the freshmen, who gathered around the "C." Dean Frank Probert explained to the new men the tradition of guarding the "C."

SENIORS DEDICATE BENCH TO GLORY OF FOOTBALL MEN

Scores of Games With Stanford and Ohio Inscribed On Plague.

BERKELEY, March 23.—Honoring the members of the victorious 1920 football team who wrested honors from the University of Ohio as the climax of an eventful season on New Year's day at Pasadena, a marble "senior bench" was today presented to the university as the gift of the 1921 graduating class.

The bench, placed on the west side of the Campanile, will replace a battered old wooden senior bench, a tradition of many years' standing.

The dedication was featured by short speeches by President Emeritus Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Harold W. Waltz, president of the senior class, and O. C. Majors, speaking in behalf of the football team.

Engraved on a plaque on the bench is the seal of the university and the following inscription:

"This bench, a symbol of senior control, is dedicated by the class of 1921 to the victorious 1920 football team." Names of the four coaches and thirty members of the squad who played at Pasadena are inscribed at the bottom of the plaque, with the following two significant scores: California vs. Stanford, 38-0, and California vs. Ohio, 28-0.

SPRING AILMENTS

Impure Blood, Humors,—Relief in a Good Medicine.

Spring ailments are due to impure, thin, devitalized blood.

Among them are pimples, boils, other eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, nervousness and "all run-down" conditions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla combines the roots, barks, herbs, berries and other medicinals that have been found in many years of intelligent observation to be most effective in the treatment of these ailments.

Successful physicians prescribe the same ingredients for diseases of the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys, and in cases where alterative and tonic effects are needed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the spring medicine that purifies, enriches and revitalizes your blood, increasing power of resistance to disease.

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous and Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown.

This whole condition is a warning that nature needs assistance in giving the system a general housecleaning.

Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S.S.S., the great vegetable blood remedy; to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the systaem in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.

WAGE PARLEY OF W. P. ON AGAIN; MEN RESISTING

Unskilled Labor Committee of Road Offers Counter Pay Plan.

Conference between E. W. Mason, general manager of the Western Pacific, and his assistants, including J. H. Leary, terminal superintendent in Oakland, and a committee representing unskilled employees of the railroad relative to a reduction in wages was resumed at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

No advance statements had been give nuot, but it was known that following the announced decision of the Western Pacific to reduce wages, an employees' counter proposal had been presented.

One of the workers' committee, who declined to be quoted directly, admitted that the men were willing to accept a wage reduction, but not such as proposed by the railway. He declared that if the Western Pacific policy declaration were carried out, it would mean a strike.

The Western Pacific conference is being watched by Southern Pacific officials, who will undertake a similar conference next month.

Notification of both Western and Southern Pacifics given unskilled laborers were that a minimum scale of 30 cents an hour in place of 42 cents as at present, would be established. No workers except those in unskilled lines are included.

FILM STAR IS MISTAKEN FOR MISSING GIRL

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—It developed today that Florence Watkins, a Pittsburgh girl, who disappeared last August, has a double here in the motion picture colony. Miss Watkins' mother saw two film dramas in Pittsburgh recently in which she saw a girl whom she believed was her daughter. A search of local studios showed this actress to have been Miss Rose Cade, formerly of Lake Charles, La., who came to Los Angeles two years ago.

Miss Cade expressed her sympathy to Mrs. Watkins and promised to help her in the nationwide search for her daughter.

Stables in Alameda Declared Nuisances

ALAMEDA, March 23.—The East End Improvement Club held a meeting last night at which a number of issues important to the east end district of Alameda were discussed. A formal complaint will be made to the city council protesting against the stabling of horses by the Oakland scavengers in a place at the foot of Pearl street.

After considerable discussion regarding the ark situation endorsement of the action of the city in compelling their removal was withheld. It was the opinion of the members that the city did not need the endorsement of the club as it had full power to carry out the ejectment proceedings under the powers of the law. A number of other matters also were discussed, including the Bay Farm island highway. Ernest Neiss presided.

Nation Faced by Period Of Promise and Time of Peril, Says Gov. Lowden

BERKELEY, March 23.—Former Governor Lowden's address today at the university in part was:

These late few years have been crowned with big events. Thrones have crumbled, dynasties have fallen, new nations have been born and the map of Europe has been redrawn. It is a period of mighty ferment. Old faiths are being challenged; ideas that have become axiomatic are being questioned; new and strange doctrines are in the air.

If it is a period of promise it is also a time of peril. For we are likely to reject the old simply because it is old and to embrace the new simply because it is new. Therein our danger lies in reference to our own form of government.

Government is a problem which has always vexed mankind. How to reconcile the liberties of the individual with a government of sufficient energy to guarantee an orderly process of society is a question which has engaged the attention of the thinkers of the centuries. This was the question which the revolutionary fathers had to answer. The constitution they framed has been, in some sense, the model of every free government since formed. The framers of the new constitution were as familiar with the history of the government of the past as they were today. They had seen democracies, one after the other, fall.

For centuries a democracy had been regarded by the statesmen of the world as nothing more than a beautiful dream. In the light of history, therefore, the framers of the constitution went about to devise some form of government which should avoid at the same time the autocracy of the despot and the turbulence of the mob. They appreciated the merit of democracy, but they saw its limitations.

Government Ideas Came From Britain

They were familiar, of course, with the town meetings of New England as established by the Plymouth colony. Such meetings gave perfect expression to the democratic principle in government. They saw, too, that in less than twenty years after its settlement, the Plymouth colony had so expanded that delegates were selected from several communities to represent the inhabitants. They saw that representative government must supplant a pure democracy the moment the community has become so large that its members cannot conveniently meet and discuss together the questions pertaining to their welfare. This idea of representative government was not an invention of the Pilgrim fathers, but was borrowed from England.

And so the fathers made the principle of representative government the cornerstone of the new republic. Representative government is only the application to government of that principle which men have found by experience beneficial in other important affairs of life. Government daily becomes a more and more difficult and complex thing. The representative can, if he desires, keep in touch with the needs and real interests of those he represents.

Representative government is found wanting by some in some mysterious way encroaching upon the rights of people. Just the opposite is true. If the citizen were not permitted to employ a lawyer or a physician, would he not complain of the loss of his rights? So, if he be not permitted to govern through a representative of his own choosing, but must govern himself directly, is he not equally suffering a diminution of liberty of action?

Principle Used On Large Scale

The federal principle in government has never been employed on so large a scale before. That it eminently succeeded in securing the rights and liberties of the people in even the remotest parts of the Union, no student of history will deny. It remained, however, to prove whether a government founded upon the federal principle professed the vigor to preserve itself. This was the supreme issue of the Civil War. It is often said that this war was fought over slavery. This is not true. Slavery, it is true, precipitated the conflict, but the real issue was the preservation of the Union.

The federal principle has survived the test of armed rebellion. It is constantly confronted, however with dangers of a more insidious kind.

The federal government tends to encroach more and more upon the just prerogatives of the state. Bureaucracy at Washington is always alert to extend its power. It does not distinguish between those functions which pertain to the federal government and those which under our scheme of government belong exclusively to the state.

Hitherto it has found the states jealous of their rights and capable of resisting this tendency. So the bureaucracies now seek to gain by bribes what they failed to gain by other means. During the great war, the federal government, in order to give unity to our efforts, undertook to do many things which the states had formerly done. It intruded into the administration of almost every field of state activity, such as education, employment and public health.

This resulted in a measure in the demoralization of state administrative agencies and therefore a lowering of the vitality of the state. The bureaucracies are now loath to give up this power. They seek to salve the wounded pride of the states by offers of large federal appropriations.

Propaganda Is Being Carried On

"Propaganda is being carried on day by day, under the guise of liberal contributions to the state, which will result in taking from the federal treasury hundreds of millions of dollars for objects which must remain the care of the state if the state is to remain an entity in our national system. The rapid movement toward centralization at Washington must be checked of the value of the federal principle will be dissipated forever.

The rapid expansion of our country under the Constitution has been possible because of the capacity of our people for self-government in their local communities. Wherever a group of men has found itself upon our frontier, some form of civil government has emerged at once. The little community was not content unless it was able to take care of itself. It has been the sturdy reliance of the people upon themselves that has enabled them to form self-governing states. But this self-reliance will be broken down as men come more and more to look to the federal government for aid.

One disturbing form that this lessening of self-reliance takes is the growing inability of the several communities and states to maintain order within their own borders. Successful self-government in even the smallest political unit is the only guaranty of successful self-government in a great country such as ours. There are many evidences that this type of government is breaking down in America. More and more frequently, the village, the town, the city, finds that it cannot maintain order without outside help.

Grave Symptom Of Present Time

"This is one of the gravest symptoms of the times. Whenever a town permits the due and orderly processes of government to be interrupted by a mob, that town is no longer an asset, but becomes a liability of the Republic. For, multiply that town by a sufficient number and you have a situation in which only the army can rule. And no self-governing country was ever yet ruled successfully by force of arms. The primary duty of every political division, no matter how small, is to keep its own house in order. Men are too prone in these days, when disorder threatens, to call for soldiers. Soldiers will always be needed and must be used, if they are the only means to maintain law. For, at whatever cost, the law must remain supreme. In every nation, there must be someone or something supreme, to whom or to which all must yield obedience. In an empire it is emperor. In a kingdom, it is king. In a republic, the only majesty is the majesty of the law. Whoever does violence to the law is laying profane hands upon the sovereignty of the people. Let it be remembered, however, that every time outside force is employed in any community, it is a confession of weakness in the very foundations of our institutions. The municipality must learn to govern itself when lawlessness appears.

Pure Democracy Is Established

The framers of the Constitution thus established, not a pure democracy, but a representative federal republic. But they were not content. They went even further and imposed limitations upon the government which they themselves had created. The Constitution proceeds upon the principle that all power originally resides in the people and that government therefore comes from below and not from above.

Of late years there has been an effort on the part of some writers to discredit the framers of the Constitution. I think they might have been engaged upon a better task. However, even if all they have said about the framers of the Constitution is true, that is aside from the question. For the Constitution speaks for itself. Under it, humanity has had a larger opportunity and a greater happiness than under any other government in modern times. Under it more hapy homes have flourished, a finer manhood and womanhood have been nourished than under any government in the flood of time. The Constitution is worth preserving—not to perpetuate the fame of its founders, but for its own intrinsic worth.

RICH DIVORCEE LOSES $10,000 IN JEWELS IN CAFE

Gems Disappear When Young Woman Is Taken Ill While Dining.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Police are today investigating the disappearance of $10,000 worth of jewels in Tait's restaurant, in O'Farrell street, reported by Mrs. Agnes Shanley, divorced wife of F. P. Shanley, manager of the Continental hotel in this city and Los Angeles. Mrs. Shanley says she lost the gems on Monday night.

Mrs. Shanley was taken suddenly ill in the cafe and was taken to a retiring room, after which she was removed to the Fairmont hotel, where she makes her home.

One of Mrs. Shanley's rings was insured for $5000. Mrs. Shanley was unable to say whether her jewels had been lost or stolen. She reported her loss to Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson, who is conducting his investigation along two lines. One covers the possibility of theft and the other the possibility that the gems may have been lost during the excitement attendant upon Mrs. Shanley's sudden illness.

Matheson said that Mrs. Shanley was accompanied by a man, who is her cousin, she declared, but whose name she withheld. Previous to Mrs. Shanley's sudden illness she and her escort danced and dined for upwards of two hours. She refused today to discuss the loss of her gems.

The Shanleys were divorced in May, 1917, Mrs. Shanley being granted the decree.

Just which park will be made known later.

Japan Protests Kamchatka Deal With Soviets

Foreign Minister Declares Action Will Be Taken To Protect "Rights."

TOKYO, March 22 (By the Associated Press).—Japan will be obliged to take whatever action may be deemed necessary to preserve her rights in Kamchatka if the Russian Far Eastern republic persists in its course of transferring a part of that peninsula to the authority of the Russian Soviet government, Viscount Uchida, foreign minister, declared in the house of peers here today.

After stating that Japan had recently received information that this transfer had been made he said this country had sent a protest to the Far Eastern republic administration at Chita and had submitted five demands. He declared that these demands had not as yet been accepted.

Japan has extensive fishery interests in Kamchatka.

This report of the transfer of part of the peninsula of Kamchatka to the Soviet government in Moscow appears to have a direct bearing upon concessions granted there to Washington B. Vanderlip of California by the Bolshevik regime in Russia. The concession covering the exploitation of the oil, coal and fishery interests of Kamchatka was granted last year.

Precinct Officers Apply For Jobs

Appointment of 1506 precinct officers for the April 19 primary election will be made tomorrow by City Clerk Leo Cummings.

Cummings says that indications point to a full quota for all the booths with the exception of a few where residents in the district have not responded. Usually, he says, there are too many applicants for some precincts and not enough for others. This year's number of applications is about as large as usual, running to about 3000.

Friday will be the last day for the amending of any election petitions found faulty. There is only one candidate in this category this year and after this candidate either makes good or is eliminated the city clerk will print the ballots.

LOT OF FUSS OVER SECOND-HAND CLOTHES

MADRID, March 23 — Great ceremony attends the gift of the suit of clothes worn by the king of Spain on Epiphany day, to which suit the Duke of Allaga, Count of Rivadavia, possesses the hereditary right. This he inherited from an ancestor of the fifteenth century, who obtained the grant from the then king of Castile, Juan II, who changed suits with the duke's forbear on the battlefield of Rivadavia, where the king was in danger of being captured by his victorious enemies but succeeded in escaping in his vassal's suit

The state coach accompanied by royal footmen in ancient liveries and bearing staves conveys the suit to the Madrid palace of the duke, who receives it with due deference and add it to the considerable museum he possesses, which forms a historical record of men's fashions dating back a long time

The day following the delivery of the suit the duke goes to the royal palace and renews his vows of eternal allegiance to the king.

GOOD MUSIC IS DECLARED ASSET FOR ANY REGION

Ad Club Hears Discussion of Means To Develop Taste of Public For It.

Music as an advertising medium was discussed at the Weekly Ad club luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday by Mme Sofia Neustadt, president of the Music Teachers' Association of Alameda county

"We bring to you a message of music, which as an advertising medium is without a rival," she told the ad men "I wish to call your attention the possibility of making music a commercial asset to any city That music is an asset to any community is unassailable I have seen what it means in Europe—what a financial asset it is to cities there—and I wish to speak today on behalf of music for the people and by the people

"The absence of drink has led many to look lower than even drink," she went on "They seek a substitute in music of the dance halls, which is derived from heathen music Until we find the means of providing them with better music, young girls will listen to and be influenced by this heathenish music, which can be tracked back to the music employed by the Hindus to charm snakes"

GOOD MUSIC URGED

"We should put good music before our people," she continued. "We have a 'Best Parlor' in Oakland which corresponds in a way to the best parlors' in old - fashioned homes You remember, don t you, how the best parlor was kept closed, and was opened only for a wedding or a funeral, or possibly the minister's visit? The people of Oakland have an Auditorium but is it used for and by them to the extent it might be? When will Oakland cast off her swaddling clothes and stand up as a great city?"

Mme Neustadt urged the establishment of a Community Music School as a means of bringing good music directly to the people, and also as a means of preparing the musically-gifted for more extensive musical study. She also announced that the Eleventh Annual convention of the Music Teachers' Association of California would be held this year, and that an effort is being put forth to make this the largest convention yet to be held by the organization. Oakland, according to the speaker, is the logical center of the convention and most of the important committee meetings and other convention gatherings will be held here

CONSERVATORY URGED

Gilbert Moyle of Berkeley spoke of the plan of establishing a National Conservatory of Music with one of the five branches in the Eastbay district The Fletcher bill now before Congress covers the establishment of such a conservatory The plan is to have the conservatory divided into five branches one at Washington, D C one near New York, one near Boston, one in Florida and one in California near San Francisco or near Los Angeles

A musical program was given for the Ad Men under the direction of Mme Neustadt Mrs. Eileen Piggott and Miss Ruth Hall sang a duet, and Miss Marion Nicholson played the violin, with Miss Helen Rust as accompanist

At the conclusion of the luncheon, Molly's Pete famous speed calf, who had just completed her gruelling race from Davis to Berkeley, was brought into the banquet room and made a brief speech through the medium of her escorts, L A Raffetto and James Bronson Through her spokesmen, Molly's Pete called attention to the picnic to be given by the Davis Farm School at Davis on April 23

She was accused of having torn the sign into bits in the presence of the officers. The supreme court sustained the decision of the lower court

BLATCHFORD NOW IN COMMAND OF 9TH ARMY CORPS

Plans Afloat To Raise Liggett, Retired, To Grade of Lieutenant-General.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Brigadier - General Richard M. Blatchford officially assumed his duties today as commander of the Ninth Army Corps area, here, relieving Major-General Hunter Liggett, who was automatically retired Monday by the army age limit rule when he reached his sixty-fourth birthday. Brigadier-General Blatchford arrived in San Francisco, the Ninth Army Corps area headquarters, yesterday and wes met by Major-General Liggett and several staff officers.

Yesterday Liggett received a telegram from General John J. Pershing, former commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces, in which Liggett held the emergency rank of lieutenant-general, paying a tribute to his services.

Despatches received here from Washington today announced that a second attempt would probably be made to obtain promotion to the rank of lieutenant-general for Major General Liggett, retired. According to the despatches, the promotion is favored by Secretary of War Weeks, who declared that other nations have rewarded the battle services of their commanders, and that he supported the promotion of the retired major-general.

Three Wives Ask Divorce Decrees

Charges that he locked his 11-year-old daughter Eleanor out of the house in her nightgown, that he hit his wife with a coat hanger and then threatened to beat his son Edgar, aged 22, with a chair, are made against Edgar M. Wallace, in a divorce complaint just filed by Mrs. Eva E. Wallace.

The couple married January 18, 1898, at Kansas City and separated February 28, 1921. Mrs. Wallace asks the custody of Eleanor.

Despite the fact that William F. Carlton makes good money as chief engineer of the Hotel Oakland, he allowed his wife only $12 a month on which to run the house and thus forced her to go to work, according to allegations made in the divorce complaint of Bessie Carlton. Mrs. Carlton asks the custody of Cecelia, aged 12, and $75 a month alimony. They were married in San Francisco January 18, 1902, and separated last March.

Merritt A. Kelsey beat his wife black and blue, called her opprobrious names, accused her falsely of associating with other men and exhibited an "ungovernable, and ferocious" temper, according to a divorce affidavit just filed by Mrs Margaret M. Kelsey. She asks for alimony and for the custody of the three children, James, aged 11, Jack, aged 9, and Kathryn, aged 5 years.

Harry Borchert Not Connected With Place

Harry Borchert of Alameda today stands cleared of having had any connection with the operation of a so-called soft drink establishment at 1205 Lincoln avenue, Alameda, raided by dry agents, following Borchert's appearance yesterday before United States Commissioner Krull in San Francisco.

The hearing developed that Borchert, who is engaged in business in San Francisco, leases the Lincoln-avenue premises, but has sublet them to other persons. According to Commissioner Krull, the prohibition agents who raided the place recently had no cause for suspecting Borchert.

J. H. Powers and Dan Templeton, who have been operating the establishment, are under arrest charged with violating the prohibition law

In the homes of the Western pioneers, in the coffee houses and hotels of the early Fifties, Folger's Coffee was the "cup that cheered." From the days of hoop skirts and prairie schooners, "Folger's" has been the name of better coffee.

Through all these seventy years the Folger ideal has been to produce coffee of distinctive flavor. Folger's Golden Gate Coffee is the realization of that ideal.

Care in selecting only coffees of highest quality combined with skillful blending and roasting gives Folger's Golden Gate Coffee a uniformly good flavor—a flavor that never changes.

DAIRYMEN WILL FIGHT BILL ON OLEOMARGARINE

Measure Would Allow Sale of Butter Substitute Without Label.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRAMENTO, March 23.—Word is out that the fat will be on the fire when the oleomargarine bill will be considered in senate committee a week from tonight. The bill would allow the sale of California-made butter substitute without the label signifying that it is not a pure dairy product, and of course, the dairy interests are lined up against it.

The argument of the proponents is that it is possible to sell similar goods made in other states here without the label and that all the law does is to put a handicap on California manufacturers. The measure is one introduced by Senator Arthur H. Breed.

Senator Breed also has a bill which would allow payments on street openings to be paid in installments as street work is paid. It is said to have strong support.

A measure that will make it illegal to use the American shield or the Stars and Stripes for advertising or other purposes not patriotic has been introduced through the efforts of W. C. Eddy of the Federated Trades Council of Sacramento.

The passage of the Japanese school bill, giving districts the right to erect separate schools for Japanese and Americans is a first gun in a lot of Japanese legislation due in the next few days. Senator Yonkin's anti-Japanese fishing bill is causing a big stir as fishing interests around Monterey claim that it will put them out of business.

The public hearing on the Greene bill which would repeal the law providing for the Home for Delinquent Women in Sonoma county, has been postponed from Friday night until Tuesday evening, on account of Good Friday. A large number of persons from the bay cities will be present.

JAPANESE SCHOOL BILL IS PASSED

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—Separate public schools for Japanese children are provided for in a bill which passed in the assembly yesterday without opposition. The bill, introduced by Assemblyman Carleton Greene of Paso Robles, provides that boards may establish separate schools for Japanese, and when such schools are established Japanese cannot attend any other public school except these. There was short discussion about the possibility of added expense, but Greene pointed out that the measure does not compel the establishment of schools for Japanese, but permits it when school boards so desire.

Assemblyman Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach questioned Greene as to the necessity of Japanese widely scattered over school districts being compelled to go a long way to the separate schools.

"What we are thinking of here is not the good of the Japanese children, but the good of the American children," answered Greene. Merriam did not vote against the bill.

Assemblyman W. E. Badham of Los Angeles said the measure will tend to keep the Japanese in one district.

There was no argument as to the measure except Merriam's questions and sixty-two votes were recorded for it.

Eight Administration Bills Looked for; Fight Looms

By AD B. SCHUSTER

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRAMENTO, March 23.—The tip that the close of the budget hearing in the Senate will be a signal for the release from committee of the eight bills included in the Governor's economy and efficiency program is being circulated today among leaders of the administration forces.

With all the appeals of various departments for more money fresh in the minds of the Legislature, and with the budget trimming program attacked in what these leaders believe to have been a most effective way, it is argued that the logical moment for the start of the reorganization fight is near at hand. It is expected then that the eight White bills, now reposing in the hands of the committee on governmental efficiency, will be reported out favorably next week, will take their places on the file and that a motion will be made to set them aside for special order of business at an early date.

NOURSE IN CONFERENCE

Judge John T. Nourse, of San Francisco, the man who is accredited with having drawn all of the measures, is here in conference with Governor Stephens and others. He had not been in town more than two hours before the word went out that "there is something doing on reorganization," and the various camps began to map out their balloting formations.

The Stephens-Nourse-White bills will meet with one of the most stubborn battles that the legislature has seen. They are predicated on the supposition that the Governor should be held personally responsible for State government, and that in his hands should be put a power that is practically unlimited. The right to make appointments all down the line, heads and sub-heads, is in his hands, and even the right to fix salaries is left in his jurisdiction. The bill says that the Governor, until the Legislature shall act, shall fix the salary and there will be no Legislature to act for two years after the bills are signed.

SPECULATION IS RIFE

With the approach of the reorganization battle there arises again the speculation on the part of the opponents of the Stephens-Nourse-White measures as to whether it is the plan to pass all eight or to center on one or two.

Assemblyman John R. White of Glendale, who figures as a sort of stepfather to the bills, is keeping close-mouthed and does not wish to be quoted until the psychological moment. When asked if there was any truth in the capitol rumor that he was lukewarm on the measures which bear his name he made emphatic denial.

If the S-N-W bills fail in passage, there will be one or two all-the-way efficiency and economy bills up for consideration. The Tax Payers' Association bill does away with all the boards and commissions and allocates the duties of the State government to the various constitutional officers. A third plan is based on the Boynton report and does away with many duplicating departments, but would tend to preserve the existing functions of government.

RE-APPORTIONMENT DELAY

The question of re-apportionment has been put off for a week in the Senate, and the Assembly is marking time. There is a disposition to regard the Boggs bill as the skeleton upon which the structure is to be built, and as the Senate committee has this bill everyone is waiting for that body. As Congress has not acted in the Congressional apportionment many are arguing that by putting the whole question over until the Federal body acts time could be saved.

A remark made by Senator Joseph Rominger in the Senate budget hearing yesterday is occasioning all manner of comment in various sources. Will C. Wood was repeating the testimony he had previously given before the Assembly and was dwelling at length on the State's administrative economy, when Rominger interrupted.

"I do not like to interrupt Mr. Wood's campaign speech," said Rominger, "but I thought that we were here to listen to figures concerning the school department."

There was an awkward pause into which jumped Senator W. J. Carr with the suggestion that as Wood was allowed a definite amount of time and as the educational appropriations were so large a part of the total that he be allowed to follow his own program.

"Thank you, Senator," said Wood, "that was my idea exactly."

A little later Rominger walked out.

Dry Issue Dead? "No," Say Solons, Not by "Jugful"

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—The wet and dry issue, referred to by legislators as the dread spectre of each session, has made its reappearance here. Dry forces have been arriving on every train for the past few days in preparation for a fight to enact the Wright bill into law, and in an effort to stop any further inroads on their position by the wets, who have already taken a couple of outposts by putting one wet resolution through the assembly and getting a favorable preliminary vote on another.

Up to a week ago the prohibition issue was apparently as dead at Sacramento as its supporters have proclaimed it to be. Then Assemblyman Badaracco of San Francisco burst forth with a resolution to memorialize congress in favor of light wines and beers, and got it through the assembly. Then another resolution was brought to the floor, and while it has not reached final passage, it was amended along lines suggested by the wets, and an effort by the drys to get it returned to committee failed by a substantial vote.

DRY MEN ARRIVE.

About that time the dry reinforcements began to arrive.

Then followed a conference, at which the Harris bill, styled after Senator Harris of Fresno, who introduced it, was cast aside by the drys and the Wright bill substituted. The Wright bill is the Harris bill, word for word, as it now stands, but presented in the assembly by Assemblyman T. M. Wright of San Jose.

The drys said freely that Senator Harris had worked so consistently for prohibition that his name brought opposition that the same bill under another style would not draw.

WOULD KEEP STATE DRY.

The Wright bill is a state parallel of the Volstead act. It puts the same offences against liquor laws under state and county ban that are under federal ban. Its enactment, the supporters claim, would merely result in local authorities having the right to act for prohibition enforcement just as federal officers do. The wets, however, say that if by some chance congress should relax the federal laws and meanwhile California had adopted the Wright bill, the state could be kept dry under the Wright bill, while the rest of the nation enjoyed the relaxed federal restrictions.

The whole result has been, according to members, to center attention once more on the wet and dry question, and to start the trading for and against such legislation that has heretofore been missing.

Labor Measures Meet Approval In Committee

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—(United Press.)—Labor scored in the Assembly labor and capital committee last night. Five measures favorable to labor were recommended out favorably. They were:

The West bill, prohibiting firemen, brakemen or trainmen from receiving messages for the handling of trains.

The West measure, providing Saturday half holiday for state employees.

The Coombs bill, giving all state employees an eight-hour day.

McDowell's measure providing that no deductions shall be made in the pay of employees coming to work late in excess of the compensation they would have received for the time lost.

The Coombs measure, providing a pension fund for state employees was sent to the ways and means committee.

The Parkinson measure, providing for a commissioner of arbitration to settle strikes, was tabled.

FUND PLANNED FOR VETERANS

"The Three Fates" has been selected as the feature tableau to be presented at the benefit ball of the Associated Federal Students, disabled war veterans, at the Oakland Municipal Auditorium Saturday evening, April 2, according to an announcement made yesterday by Mrs. R. C. Young, chairman of the pageant committee of the dance.

The widow and two daughters of Jack London, world-famous California author, will be the principals in the production, which has been worked out under the interpretation of the noted artist, Paul Thurman's conception.

LONDONS TAKE PART

Lachesis will be portrayed by Miss Meth London, Clotho by Mrs. Park Abbott, formerly Miss Joan London, and Atrophus by Mrs. Bessie London. The direction of the tableau has been under way for several weeks under the personal supervision of Mrs. Eva Barth Taggart.

Music accompanying the presentation of the tableau will be from the fifth symphony of Beethoven, "When Fate Comes Knocking at the Door." John Wharry Lewis, well-known musical conductor, who will supervise the musical program of the dance, will render the symphony accompanying the staging.

Attention to the pageant spectacle will be drawn to the stage of the Auditorium by a corps of United States marine buglers from Mare Island navy yard and those accompanying the staff of Major-General George Barnett, U. S. M. C., who will be one of the guests of honor at the affair.

FUND FOR VETERANS

Proceeds of the affair, which now promises to be the crowning feature of the Eastbay district's social affairs during the post-Lenten season, will go toward the foundation of a general revolving fund from which disabled war veterans may borrow money at times when government pay warrants due them are delayed in receipt, being held up in Washington by government "red tape." Numerous cases of long delays in the forwarding of government pay warrants makes the creation of this fund imperative, according to members of the Associated Federal Students and officials of the Federal Board for Vocational Training, under whose supervision the disabled veterans are working in the governmental rehabilitation program.

A passing automobile had his his milk wagon squarely anw with great acumen and kept right on going. Milk flooded the street while cats from blocks around answered the clarion call to "free breakfast."

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 23.—Three laborers were killed and three seriously burned when a furnace at the Steelton plant of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation collapsed today.

BUDGET PROBERS HEAR NORMAL SCHOOL CLAIMS

Statement Made That Salaries Are Generally Lower Than in High Schools.

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—Requirements of the State Normal schools and all educational activities aside from those of the University of California, were considered by the senate in its budget hearing.

Presidents of the Normal schools told the senators the salaries paid in their institutions were generally lower than in the high schools and that they must be raised if efficient faculties were to be maintained.

Max Thelen, former railroad commissioner retained by public utilities for the budget investigation, agreed to modify his first estimate of amounts that should be allowed for salary increases and attacked a showing of Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction.

Wood, in presenting the same matter he submitted to the assembly several days ago, included a table intended to show that proposed Normal School salary increases in California were fifteen per cent as against increases in certain other states ranging from fifty per cent in Illinois to eight per cent in Massachusetts.

Thelen said Normal school salaries in California were raised twenty per cent last year. The actual raise proposed in Illinois was thirty per cent, he asserted, adding that he would accept that for this state.

Wood replied that the thirty per cent estimate did not include increases in Illinois during recent years and Thelen agreed.

The Normal school presidents detailed repairs needed by their institutions and said if reduction of proposed appropriations were made as Thelen suggested they might as well, in most cases, close the schools.

PROPERTY, LEGAL BILLS APPROVED

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—Senator Lyon's bill to give wives the right of testamentary disposition of one-half of the community property was reported to the Senate today with a 11 to 3 vote of the judiciary committee in favor of its passage.

The committee also approved Senator Sample's bill to prohibit the practice of law by individuals or organizations other than regularly licensed attorneys, with an amendment to exempt real estate firms, title companies, notaries and patent attorneys.

Fight On To Save Alleged Perjurers

REDDING, Cal., March 23.—The fight to secure the release of George Dewey Davis and Gerald Callahan, charged with perjury in connection with testimony given in the case of William Norris, under death sentence for the murder of Marshal Rieves, will be resumed here Friday.

The two witnesses now being held in the city jail in lieu of $6000 bail, will have their preliminary hearings Friday.

The fight to save the life of Norris, 17-year-old lad, who, it is alleged was forced to plead guilty to the charge of murder, has shifted into an attempt to save Callahan and Davis from state prison.

Working for the young ex-service men are prominent members of the Shasta county American Legion post.

Superior Judge Charles O. Busick, who tried Norris and sentenced him to hang for the murder of Rieves, today discussed the case. Busick declared that Norris is at least 20 years old.

Would Change Time Of State Primaries

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—The senate committee on elections today recommended the passage of an amendment to the direct presidential primary, which provides that the election shall be held the first Tuesday after September 11 instead of August. The time for the election is advanced, it is said, because the warm weather in the southern portion of the state keeps many electors from the polls. The elections committee also tabled the bill requiring registration of voters every six years.

Franchise Bill Is Favored By Solons

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—Indications today pointed to an early victory for the indeterminate franchise bill in the public utilities committee of the assembly, following a hearing at which corporation representatives indicated their willingness to amend the measure by striking out certain features objectionable to the municipalities.

A majority of the committee openly declared themselves favorable to the bill insofar as it related to indeterminate franchises. A new hearing was set for March 28, at which time amendments will be presented.

'Masher' Suspects Are Gathered To Jail

Three alleged mashers touring the downtown section in an automobile were arrested last night by Patrolmen W. I. Hodgkins and C. Peters at Fifteenth street and San Pablo avenue. Albert Tombs and Edward Potts were charged jointly with intoxication and disturbing the peace, while a charge of disturbing the peace was lodged against George Newman. According to the police, the three accosted girls at Fourteenth street and San Pablo avenue and on Fifteenth street.

COSTLY CHIVALRY.

City jail chivalry doesn't pay, Charles Jennings found out today when he was sentenced by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell to 100 more days after he has completed his present sentence of six months for petty larceny. Jennings was caught smuggling opium to a woman inmate of the city jail on the floor above him.

FATHER SESNON TO TEACH IN EAST

Rev. Father Robert E. Sesnon will leave Friday evening for Portland, Ore., en route to Washington, D. C., where he is to teach the spoken word in the Catholic University. He will complete a series of lectures which he has been giving in St. Patrick's Catholic church, San Francisco, on Friday evening, and will leave immediately for the north. He will conduct the Easter masses in the Dominican church in Portland Sunday morning.

Father Sesnon returned from Boston last fall, following the completion of his special course in vocal expression, and was immediately appointed lecturer and missionary of the archdiocese of San Francisco by Archbishop Hanna. His official residence has been St. Leo's Clergy House, Oakland.

Since taking up his residence in Oakland Father Sesnon has given several lectures and lecture courses. His series of Sunday evening sermons on the "Living Wage" in St. Leo's was given during the month of November. Recently he has been conducting Sunday evening services in St. Patrick's church, San Francisco, and has been speaking in the Catholic church in San Jose each Wednesday evening.

His lecture, or as he terms "evening" with the American poet, Joyce Kilmer, was given in a San Francisco theater and was repeated recently in Ebell club for the benefit of St. Leo's church.

Father Sesnon expects to be in the east several months, instructing and taking up a special line of study.

Police Make Raid On Jerusalem Bandits

JERUSALEM, March 23.—Bandits have flourished in the Holy Land as well as in other parts of the world since the beginning of the war. The police are now trying to put an end to their activities.

Abdul Hadi Kaha, the notorious outlaw leader, who is said to have several murders to his own personal credit, was shot and killed at Zichron Jaob recently while attempting with several companions to escape arrest.

The Galilee district police, in co-operation with the authorities of Ajlun, successfully attacked the Speltan section of Mudeira's gang of bandits at Kafr Abil, and captured several of them. Mudeira himself is a fugitive on the other side of the Jordan, and it is believed that his followers are scattered.

British Ships Take Big Island Cargo

MANILA, P. I., March 23 (correspondence of the Associated Press).—British ships carried nearly one-half of all the exports of the Philippine islands during the month of December, 1920, as shown by the report of the customs bureau. The exports during the last month of the year amounted to approximately $8,900,000 in value, and out of this $3,900,000 worth of products left the islands in British bottoms.

Ships under the United States flag carried away products valued at $2,240,000, and Japanese vessels were third with traffic amounting to $1,328,000 in value.

Boycott On Operas Lifted in Germany

DRESDEN, Germany, March 23.—The Dresden opera company has lifted the boycott against all French or English composers except Saint-Saens, who once was very popular here. His "Samson and Delila" was one of Dresden's most favored operas before the war. The opera company announced that on account of the Frenchman's anti-German writings his compositions would never again be played.

Richmond Fare Cut Asked of Commission

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Representatives of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce appeared before the State Railroad Commission today in connection with an application of the restoration of the pre-war fares between that city and San Francisco. Prior to August 18, 1918, the fare between San Francisco and Macdonald avenue was 20 cents with a ten-ride ticket selling for $1.75 and between San Francisco and Richmond avenue the fare was 25 cents. The present tariff is 65 cents between Macdonald avenue and San Francisco and 54 cents between ferry points and San Francisco. The station at Richmond avenue has been abandoned and the chamber is asking the commission to order the Santa Fe to reopen it.

Especially Appropriate for Gifts

"Stabat Mater"—"Quis est Homo" (Rossini) 89158 $2
The third stanza of the Latin poem in which is asked, in effect, "Who Shall Blameless Stand Before Thee?" It is sung by Mme. Homer and Miss Louise Homer.

"Les Rameaux" (Faure) 74319 $1.75
There is no more appropriate nor more beautiful Easter hymn than "The Palms." In this record the graceful style and perfect diction of the favorite French artist, Edmond Clement, are shown to perfection.

"Messiah"—"Oh, Thou That Tellest Good Tidings to Zion" 88614 $1.75
A truly wonderful record from Handel's greatest of oratorios. It is in quick, joyous measure and inspiringly sung by Mme. Homer.

"Adeste Fideles"—"Oh, Come All Ye Faithful" 74436 $1.75
One of our best loved hymns, and so familiar that it is likely to be overlooked. John McCormack sings it in Latin, with orchestra and chimes accompaniment.

OTHER SACRED SONGS BY CARUSO

Largo from Handel's "Xerxes" 88617 $1.75
This great aria is the only remaining part that has lived of the once great opera, now passed into oblivion.

"Ave Maria" (Kahn) 89065 $2.00
The great tenor is accompanied by the composer-pianist, and there is a delightful violin obbligato by Mischa Elman.

Pieta Signore (Stradella) 88599 $1.75
"Have Pity, O Lord." While listening to this song it is easy for the imagination to be carried to the interior of a large cathedral, with lofty pillars and dimlit spaces.

"Sancta Maria" (Bertrand and Faure)..88559 $1.75
"La Procession" (Brizeux and Franck)..88556 $1.75
Requiem Mass (in memory of Alessandro Manzoni) 88514 $1.75

PORTLAND, Ore., March 22—President H. B. Van Duzer of the Portland Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee headed by Governor Olcott to organize a company to take over concessions in Crater Lake National Park and provide adequate accommodations for tourists. It is said that the plans to be followed will be like the handling of concessions in the Yosemite National Park, which were outlined in detail at a recent conference by A. B. C. Dohermann of San Francisco.

War On Immodesty Approved By Pope

ROME, March 23—The Osservatore, Romano, organ of the Vatican, praises highly the initiative of the Catholic women of Santiago, Chili, who have started a campaign against immodest fashions in dress. The newspaper says:

"This will tell the world there still are phalanxes of Christian girls who can and will free themselves from the yoke of immodest fashions, which lower the dignity of womanhood."

News of the Churches

Special services in observance of Holy Week are being held by churches of all denominations. Beginning with the elaborate musical programs which many of the churches arranged to celebrate Palm Sunday, the significant events which marked the last few days before the crucifixion, have each been observed with appropriate services.

In the First Presbyterian and Calvary Congregational churches special speakers have been conducting services each evening, and will continue to do so during the remainder of the week. Rev. Francis W. Russell of St. John's Presbyterian church, Berkeley, and Rev. Howard I. Kerr, pastor of Brooklyn church, are among the speakers at the First church. Rev. R. B. Dodge is to speak at Calvary church this evening, and Rev. Francis J. Van Horn is the speaker tomorrow evening.

Union services will be held in the First Congregational church Friday under the auspices of the Oakland Ministers' Union. The service will begin at 12 o'clock and will last until 3 p. m. Prominent speakers including Bishop Adna Wright Leonard, will speak during the afternoon, each speaker being allowed 15 minutes in which to convey his message.

Maundy Thursday will be observed by the Episcopal churches tomorrow and the three hours of devotion will be especially observed on Friday. Baptismal services will be held in many churches on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Good Friday will be observed by the Catholic churches with appropriate sermons and masses. The mass of the Pre-sanctified will be celebrated and the service of the three hours of devotion will be held from 12 until 3 o'clock p. m.

HOLY WEEK OBSERVED

Holy Week, the last week of the lenten season, will be observed with special solemnity at St. Mary's church, Eighth and Jefferson streets. This evening there will be lenten devotions, an explanation of the ceremonies of Holy Week by Rev. E. P. Dempsey and benediction.

The Holy Thursday service will begin at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and will consist of high mass and the procession of the Blessed Sacrament, in which the children of the schools will take the prominent part. During the day the church will be opened for visitation to the public. In the evening there will be eucharistic devotions and a sermon on the "Real Presence," by Rev. James J. O'Reilly.

On Good Friday morning the services will begin at 10 o'clock and will consist of the mass of the Pre-Sanctified and the adoration of the cross. At 12.15 o'clock the service of the three hours' agony will commence and will consist of the Way of the Cross, with music by the children's choir, seven sermonettes of the characters of the Passion by the clergy of St. Mary's and adoration of the cross.

The services on Good Friday evening will be of a very solemn nature. Besides the Way of the Cross, excerpts from Rossini's "Stabat Mater" will be sung by St. Mary's Conservatory choir, under the direction of Prof. Norman F. Wilkie, with Mrs. Florence Gregory at the organ. A sermon on the "Sufferings of the Cross" will be preached by the Rev. Thomas Cullen, lately of Providence, R. I.

The Holy Saturday services, which will consist of the blessing of new fire, the Pascal candle and the baptismal font, will begin at 9 and the Holy Saturday mass at 10 o'clock.

WILL RENDER ORATORIO

The Temple choir of the First Presbyterian church, Twenty-sixth and Broadway, will produce Stainer's great masterpiece, "The Crucifixion," in the church auditorium on Good Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. The oratorio will be given under the direction of the organist, Walter B. Kennedy.

To add to the impressiveness of the service, all but two of the chandeliers will be darkened. At the close of the service the tradition will be followed that no hymn be sung, and the congregation will leave the church without the organ postlude. The object of the oratorio is to turn serious thought to the great event in Christ's life.

HUNTER WILL SPEAK

Superintendent of Schools Fred Hunter will speak tomorrow afternoon in the lecture rooms of the First Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Women's Association of the church. The subject of his address will be "The Greatest American Issue." Members and friends of the association are invited. The address will be given at 2.30 o'clock.

EPWORTH RALLY

Methodist students of four colleges will hold a joint Epworth League rally on Friday afternoon and evening, April 1, in Trinity Methodist church, Berkeley. Large delegations from Stanford, College of the Pacific, Mills College and the University of California will be present.

The afternoon session will begin at four o'clock, and will be conducted under the direction of a student of the College of the Pacific. This session will be open to the public. At 6 o'clock a banquet for students only will be held. Henry Walsh, president of the senior class of the University of California, will be the toastmaster.

The evening session will be a platform meeting and a public. Competitive singing, yells, stunts, readings and dramatic features will make up the program. Reports will also be heard from representative leaguers of each of the four colleges represented. A student from Stanford University will preside over the evening session.

CHURCH OF THE ADVENT

Right Rev. Edward L. Parsons, Bishop Coadjutor of California, will administer the rite of confirmation tomorrow evening in the Church of the Advent (Episcopal) at 8 o'clock. The celebration of holy communion will follow the confirmation.

The three hours service will be held from 12 to 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in commemoration of Christ's agony and death. At 7:30 o'clock Friday evening the burial of Christ will be the subject of meditation conducted by Rev. Isaac Dawson, rector of the church.

ST. LEO'S CHURCH.

Rev. Father Owen Lacey, pastor of St. Leo's Catholic Church will conduct the Three Hours' service and the meditations on the Seven Last Words from 12 to 3 o'clock p. m. on Good Friday. Alternating with the meditations the choir will offer special music under the direction of Miss Josephine Ryan, organist. The following is the program:

SAID CAN'T BE DONE

"My experience with doctors and medicines caused me to lose faith in both, and when a friend told me that Mayr's Wonderful Remedy would cure my stomach trouble I told him 'it can't be done.' SIXTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

ent Harding has issued a proclamation - the Congress in special session on April 11, to consider legislation on such as the President may call to its atten is special session will be important in pects, but primarily it will interest the because it will represent the efforts of dent to make progress toward the fulfill- is campaign pledges and the declarations of the Republican party.

subjects are scheduled for attention. importance are the tariff and the revenue . According to the program reported in 's Washington despatches to have been pon among the majority leaders of Con- Fordney emergency tariff law is to be immediately upon the convening of in exactly the form in which it encoun- esident Wilson's veto. If this is done will be clear to proceed with the formu- a permanent tariff schedule, drawn on nsive lines and designed to afford protection for all American industries cheap foreign competition.

UTILITY BILL PROGRESSES.

bay city attorneys having reached an ent on the text of the proposed amendment law governing the organization of public districts, the amendment has been reported ly by the utilities committee of the ly and will be voted on within the next ys. This amendment should pass. The da County delegation should support it ously and do everything needful to assure l enactment into law.

e amendment stands it is not exactly what was desired by its proponents, but some weakening of the measure had to be submitted to in order to remove the opposition of Berkeley's municipal representatives before the committee hearings. As the bill now stands, any city which opposes by a majority vote inclusion in the proposed public utility district may stay out.

The main virtue of the proposal remains, however, in the clause which eliminates the salaried trustees of an utility district and reduces the number of trustees. This will have the effect of avoiding a considerable item of expense and, it is believed, work for securing citizens better fitted for the work to serve on the utility district board.

With this enabling act remodeled into proper shape, the citizens of the Eastbay cities will be in a position to determine the future policy regarding the water supply. The question is a serious one and should be decided at an early date.

NORTH DAKOTA AWAKENING.

Another instructive phase in the acute political and financial situation in North Dakota, created by the operations of the Non-Partisan League, has developed. Petitions are being circulated for the recall of five State officials and three justices of the State Supreme Court, all elected to office through the activities of the Non-Partisan League. The State officers involved are Governor Lynn J. Frazier, Lieutenant-Governor Howard Wood, Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor John N. Hagan, Attorney-General William Lemke and Auditor D. C. Joindexter.

At the same time petitions are being circulated for the initiation of a group of seven laws aimed at closing the bank of North Dakota and restricting the industrial program which the State has undertaken in conformity with the platform of the Non-Partisan League.

As interesting accompaniments of these proceedings of a disillusioned portion of the North Dakota citizenry, the State administration has faced new financial difficulties. It defaulted in the payment of a loan of $1,000,000 held by a Chicago financial institution, security for which it had hypothecated $1,200,000 of State bonds. The State bank which the Leaguers founded some time ago had no funds with which to take up the loan. Also voluntary receivership proceedings were filed by the Consumers' United Stores Company, a concern organized by the Non-Partisan League. It has collected about $2,000,000 from the farmers of the State and at one time operated twenty-seven stores.

These climactical events come close and naturally upon the heels of many bank failures and other distressing developments in the Non-Partisan League's utopia. Once again demonstrably sound economic and business laws refuse to be set aside by radical dreamers and schemers.

A Georgia resident, inclined to be freakish, has determined to avail himself of the privilege allowed by law to pay his income tax in quarterly instalments. Inasmuch as his tax amounted to only four cents, each quarterly payment will be one cent. Postage, cost of money orders and envelopes to transmit the amounts due quarterly to the internal revenue collection will be about five times the tax paid. But the country is thickly populated with citizens who insist upon the enjoyment of their full legal rights regardless of the expense. Sometimes their neighbors call them pig-headed, but with what justification it is unnecessary to say.

Reports from all sections of the country indicate that the spring overcoat and straw hat have not entirely routed their elder brothers of winter.

It would be good news to hear that Trotsky had trotted.

COUNTY DIVISION UNDER THE ALTERNATIVE PROPOSITION AS VIEWED IN ALAMEDA.

Supporters of city and county government consolidation in Alameda county, by their blind insistence in forcing a decision upon the citizens have reared a menace that not only may defeat their own ends, but, like Samson, may tumble about their ears the whole structure of the present government. Should they demand that the board of freeholders submit to the voters, with the original proposition for a consolidated city and county government, the alternative plan, the result will be not a merger, but instead a division of one of the finest, most prosperous counties in the state.

Proponents of the consolidation plan have so far failed to show representative expression of opinion to uphold their proposal. Rather do they face an utter lack of interest in the project, except among the few already prejudiced in its favor. In Berkeley, Piedmont, Emeryville, Albany, and all other places where the board of freeholders have called mass meetings to bring out suggestions they have been met with the same indifference that greeted them in Alameda, where less than thirty persons attended.

The supporters of consolidation have never submitted a definite plan showing how money can be saved under the merger—the citizens have only their vague, general assurances that "it will cut down expenses."

The proponents of consolidation themselves now admit that if the alternative proposition is placed on the ballot, county division is a certainty and are now attempting to defend a divided county. Such an attitude is ridiculous both from a governmental and a commercial point of view. Oakland, which is the only part of Alameda county which will profit under consolidation, has the most to lose under division. Division of the county will, in all likelihood, result in Berkeley forming a new county and in other parts of Alameda county merging with adjacent Santa Clara and Contra Costa counties, while Alameda might, as it once voted to do, join with San Francisco.

Under such a rearrangement citizens would naturally take their commercial business along with their legal and tax business to their county seats. Berkeley, San Jose, Martinez and San Francisco would then get much of the trade that now goes to Oakland.

To divide Alameda county would be little short of criminal—yet division is inevitable if the alternative proposition is submitted to the voters. The freeholders' committee has the absolute power to decline to submit the proposition. If ALL parts of Alameda county are not ready and willing to come into one consolidated government then the county should be left as it is and methods already provided by law for economy should be utilized. Patriotism and good business sense demand tha tthey do so.—Alameda Times-Star.

NOTES and COMMENT

The admirals, who had been mostly singing low for eight years, are now raising their voices. Josephus Daniels' authority does not extend beyond the sanctum of the News and Observer, Raleigh, North Carolina, and they are thus encouraged to speak up. Admiral Fiske is early in evidence, charging the former secretary with making false statements about the navy before Congressional committees. Perhaps the former secretary testified as well as he could. Those competent to judge never did insist that he knew very much about the navy.

Those inclined to scoff at the singleness of purpose of State legislators will please take account of the fact that eleven members of the Assembly voted against an increase of their own pay, though it is a fact that the measure carried by the vote of fifty-eight who were obsessed by different ideals.

THE SECRET QUESTIONNAIRE.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Your Berkeley correspondent who discloses the pernicious activity of some teacher or school officer, has earned the thanks of the public.

Who prepared the secret questionnaire by which school children are ordered to disclose the private affairs of their parents and the intimate acts which concern the family only?

What use is to be made of this information and by whom?

Who ordered the school children to keep the matter secret and concealed from their parents?

I regard it as a high-handed outrage upon the privacy of families and a punishable misuse of the public schools, to which the attention of the district attorney should be called.

We have slept at the switch while the public schools and pupils have been misused for all kinds of illicit and unlawful purposes, and now the conspiracy proposes to employ school children as spies upon the private and personal concerns of their parents!

LONG SILENCE EXPLAINED

A certain worthy couple in an English country district had a boy who was supposed to be dumb, for up to his seventh year he had not spoken.

One day it happened that he and his father were busy in the hayfield. It was very hot, and the father paused for a drink of tea.

As he was very slowly imbibing from the jar the boy said:

"Make haste!"

In astonishment the man lowered the jar from his lips and gazed at the boy.

"Why, lad," he exclaimed, "you're talkin'! Why didn't ye speak afore?"

"Nothin' to say!" replied the boy.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

About YOUR HEALTH

What Poise Indicates and Its Absence May Mean

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Do you retain your serenity of mind in the face of all demands upon your time and patience?

Do you remain pleasant and calm, no matter how irritating your surroundings?

If you do, you possess poise.

When you have poise, it means you are well balanced, mentally and physically.

Have you ever observed two opponents in debate?

One will become angry, raise his voice, shake his fists and in his antics act like a jack-in-the-box.

The other will be calm and serene, patiently waiting his opportunity to speak, and when his chance comes he drives home his argument with telling effect.

I doubt if one can be perfectly healthy without perfect poise. Understand me, this does not mean that any one should go through life a simpering, smiling, agreeable idiot. I wouldn't give much for a man or woman who hasn't spirit enough to get excited occasionally.

But if you become so angry you don't know what you are doing, or so upset that your judgment is gone, or so moved that you lack that poise which is indicative of perfect sanity and perfect health.

Modern conditions make for "nerves." Noise, glare, sleepless nights, midnight suppers, gambling, excessive smoking, overwork, business worries or the deadliness of nothing to do—all these are factors in replacing poise with "nerves."

Fear is another factor most upsetting to poise.

Fear is deadly. It may be fear of failure, fear of losing your job or fear of your boss.

Fear in any form or from any cause is fatal to mental freedom.

If I go on like this I may sound as much a common scold as old Juvenal, who railed at the conditions of his period. He had much to say about the need of a sound mind in a sound body.

There can be no doubt that good health depends upon a fearless and well-balanced mind.

The converse is equally true, that perfect poise depends upon perfect health.

We should strive, then, for the sound mind in the sound body.

When we attain this ideal we will be free from the morbid fancies, the "blues," tantrums of temper, nervous indigestion, headaches and the thousand ills to which nerves are heir.

The degree of poise is the measure of mental and physical stability.

"In what particular?"

PLEASANTON NOT IMPRESSED WITH CONSOLIDATION

Twenty Attend Meeting and Force Clark to Make Explanations.

Pleasanton, town of some 500 registered voters of whom five cast ballots in the freeholders' election, had its whack at the consolidation charter proposals last night.

There were twenty persons present to do the whacking and two to absorb the whacks, Chairman Clark and Joseph O. McKowan of Livermore, freeholders.

It was the story of the Livermore meeting repeated only with less emphasis because, apparently, the Pleasanton voters have greater apathy.

Chairman Clark opened the meeting with the same explanations of purpose that have marked the Alameda, Livermore, Hayward and San Leandro meetings.

WANTS TO KNOW.

Clark had to enter into involved discussion when a member of his small audience demanded to know "how this thing got started, anyhow" and "why Pleasanton had to come in on it anyway?"

President C. Latham of the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce acted as spokesman for his community. He pointed out that only five persons voted at the freeholders' election, the expense of holding that election, notwithstanding, and that he could not see that any interest was being taken in consolidation in the vicinity.

"Speaking for myself, I'd rather see Alameda's government remain as it is," he insisted. His sentiment was echoed and re-echoed.

There were several enlivening tilts. J. C. Baries demanded to know if the freeholders had anything to show in the way of a saving from the new government plan.

"We have not drawn a charter yet," Clark explained. "When we do I have no doubt that some definite figures can be compiled to show you."

"Yes, and its costing $100,000 to show us," replied Baries.

GOOD MANUSCRIPT

Roscoe Wright wanted to know if the county would remain undivided if any charter presented is voted down.

"If the charter we are going to draw is voted down, it will make a good manuscript to file away," Clark informed Wright.

"That suits me!" was the vigorous reply.

Mrs. C. Powell spoke for several women present, asking who circulated freeholder petitions. Clark denied knowledge.

"Why should we worry who started it and what its defects are. We can wait for it and vote against it," interpolated Wright.

Among others who spoke were F. E. Hartzel, a druggist who desired to retain the county status quo, and William T. Davis, Pleasanton editor, who was for a borough charter plan as the least of evils but wanted his town "let alone as it is."

CONDITIONS DIFFERENT

Thomas Silva, cashier of the Pleasanton bank, pointing out the values of "leaving well enough alone," said in part:

"Our conditions here are different than anywhere else in the county. Our homes are bought for the individual and not for speculation. Our natural conditions and what might be termed advantages make it almost impossible to deal out a just taxation under the new plan. If we should be driven to another county—and we often look to that as the last step—what then? Our business goes to Oakland now, because there is where we find our county seat. If we went to Santa Clara county, for example, our business would go to San Jose. But I feel we ought to stay with Alameda county, and that Alameda county should stay with us."

No directly favorable opinion for consolidation was expressed, and in the end the meeting, having exhausted itself in such spoken oppositions as were forthcoming and such explanations as Chairman Clark saw fit to make, came to a conclusion through its own inertia.

The alternative proposal means county division. The above map illustrates how Alameda county may be broken up if the board of freeholders submit an alternative plan when a charter for a consolidated government, embracing all sections of the present county, is presented. The responsibility for county division is squarely up to the freeholders. The submission of an alternative proposal is optional. Without its submission county division is impossible.

The legal committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, supported by the legal committee of the freeholders, have declared that Oakland is the only essential city that can be named in the alternative proposal. No other city can be included unless that municipality first votes for consolidation under the plan embracing the entire county. If Alameda and Berkeley vote no at the first election (which from every indication appears likely) proceedings must continue under the law for a city and county of Oakland.

If such a county is formed (and the vote of Oakland greatly exceeds that of all the remainder of the county and would determine when separation was the issue) then Berkeley, under the amendment inserted in the act, would be free to form its own city and county government without the consent of the balance of the county. What would happen to the remainder of the county is problematical. Alameda could unite with San Francisco, and other townships might be annexed to adjoining counties. The prestige of Oakland as the commercial center of a fast growing and rich county would be destroyed.

Right of Judge To Try Case Questioned

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Questioning the right of Superior Judge Emmett Seawell to sit for Judge Murasky today, Robert P. Troy, local attorney, temporarily blocked the suit of his divorced wife, Hortense, to recover $17,000, an alleged loan made on April 11, 1913. Mrs. Troy was represented by Francis J. Heney, John D. Rutledge and her son by a former marriage, William S. White. Mrs. Troy was the wife of the late United States Senator from California Stephen White.

Troy in his own behalf objected to Judge Seawell's appearance and intimated that there was some sort of "foreign atmosphere" in the case. He has brought a counter suit for $30,000 for legal services he claims to have performed for Mrs. Troy. He was given until 1:45 this afternoon to communicate with Judge Murasky in an endeavor to determine whether the latter would try the case.

Berkeley Man To Get Bequest For $10,000

BERKELEY, March 23.—Flemon Drake, 2309 Ellsworth avenue, will receive a $10,000 bequest from the estate of his late brother, Luther Drake, banker of Omaha, Neb., according to word received here today. The bulk of the estate of more than half a million dollars, goes to the widow, who was formerly Miss Grace Wilshire of San Bernardino, Cal., and a member of the class of 1900 of the university. Before her marriage to Drake she was principal of the Marlborough School for Girls of Los Angeles.

Flemon Drake is retired and lives here with his family. He was connected with the telephone company for more than forty years before his retirement. Another brother, Charles Drake of Portland, Ore., received a bequest of $5000.

GIRL WALLOPS WOMAN, COPS AND RAPS L. A.

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—"Gee whiz, can you beat it?" pouted pretty Pearl Hill, 20, a Salt Lake City dancing teacher, held in the city jail today on a charge of disturbing the peace. "Here I am in a cell just because someone thought my dress was too short."

Miss Hill was arrested last night after she had planted a haymaker on the jaw of a woman attendant in a dance hall who accused her of wearing her skirts too short. It required three policemen to lock her up.

"Why, hundreds of girls wear 'em shorter than I," she declared. "Back in Salt Lake no one ever criticised the length of my clothes. That woman made me so mad that I couldn't resist slapping her face. Me for Salt Lake when I get out of this mess. Los Angeles is a wonderful place to keep away from!"

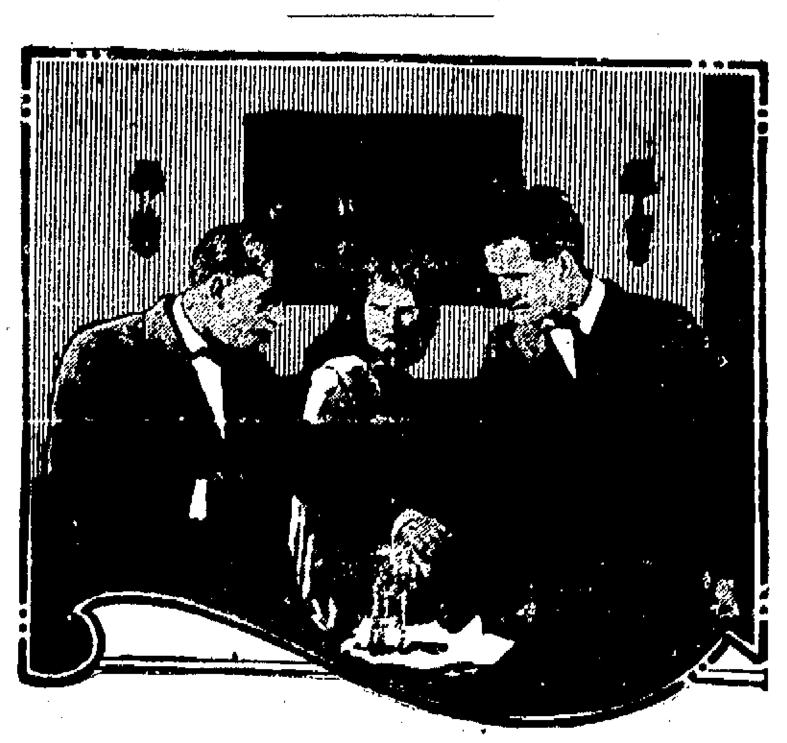
"Outside the Law" Being Held Second Week at Franklin to Accommodate Eager Thousands



PRISCILLA DEAN and LON SHANEY, stars in amazing crook play at Oakland's beautiful new theater

"Outside the Law" will be held for a second week with the entire big program which includes Buster Keaton's "Neighbors" and the eminent pianist, Hans Hanke, for a second week because of the huge crowds so far unable to obtain seats in America's most distinctive theater, the New Franklin.

At the Kinema Fatty Arbuckle is causing thousands, daily, to laugh uproariously at the funniest of all farces, "Brewster's Millions," which will continue until Friday night. Piedmont Boy Scouts add to the bill.

"Outside the Law" is a story of San Francisco gangsters, with a story so amazingly unusual and so full of thrills, that it is being the most talked of film on an Oakland screen in many a day. Lon Chaney, as the gangster, does some of the greatest acting of his great career, particularly in some energetic fights, some hazardous falls and in a separate role, that of a Chinese servant, who figures importantly in the story.

Coming to the Kinema Saturday for one week is "The Passionate Pilgrim," a mystery story of newspaper politics, from Samuel Merwin's novel.—Advertisement.

PLAN IS BEGUN TO ADVERTISE THE EASTBAY

70 New Industries Have Already Come in Year To This Section.

Calling together the "mainland advertising conference," letters were sent out today by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to more than a score of organizations all over Alameda county, requesting them to send representatives to the meeting, which will be held in the assembly hall of the Merchants' Exchange next Wednesday night.

The call, signed by President J. H. King and Louis Aber, chairman of the publicity committee, under authorization of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, sets forth that a canvass of civic organizations shows a unanimity in the opinion that the mainland of San Francisco bay should embark now on a worldwide advertising campaign, a matter which has been agitated by the publicity committee for more than three years.

LETTERS SENT OUT

It is the intention to have the conference representative of all classes, and consequently the letters have been sent to every Chamber of Commerce in the county, improvement clubs, the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions' and business men's clubs, women's organizations and organizations representing real estate men, retailers and banking interests.

In the call it is set forth that "with the acquisition of the Pacific coast naval base and more than seventy new industries in the space of a year," the time is considered opportune for making the "entire world acquainted with the mainland and its opportunities." The call then continues:

HIGHLY DESIRABLE

"It is highly desirable that this movement be made a community undertaking with the widest cooperation on the part of the whole people, and that the conference have the benefit of the ideas and suggestions of the citizens."

Preliminary arrangement for the program to be presented to the conference are being worked out this afternoon by a sub-committee of the publicity committee, consisting of Edwin Stearns, chairman; J. H. Warrack, E. T. Minney, G. M. Randall, J. R. Newsom and W. R. Armstrong.

Alameda Bathing Beach Beautified

ALAMEDA, March 23.—Further steps toward the beautification of the public bathing beach at Washington park was taken this morning by the men under the direction of Al C. Benton, superintendent of parks, when they commenced the leveling and grading of the big bank between the beach and the park. When this work is completed the entire space will be planted to greenery, which when it is in blossom this summer will present a pleasing and attractive sight. Concrete steps were recently constructed and other improvements made for the convenience of the public. Benton is to work this summer to attract as much attention to the municipal beach as it is possible to do so.

Former Aviator Buried With Tributes From Allied Flyers

MARSHAL LANGSTROTH, former Oakland high school student and army aviator, who was killed in an auto accident near Modesto Saturday night. Langstroth is shown standing beside his airplane at Marsh Field, where he was cited for bravery.

Services for Marshall Langstroth, Killed in Auto Accident Near Modesto, Are Held Here

While several airplanes, piloted by members of the Allied Flyers' Club, paying a final tribute, circled overhead, funeral services for Marshall Langstroth, former Oakland high school student and government aviator, who was killed Saturday night in an automobile accident near Modesto, were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the California crematorium. The services were conducted by Rev. Alexander Allen of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Air pilots circled overhead and dropped flowers as a tribute to the dead aviator, who was a member of the Allied Flyers' Club.

Langstroth was born in Oakland twenty-six years ago, where he attended school, and later became an aviator during the war. He trained at Rockwell Field, and later became an instructor and was transferred to Marsh Field, where he was flight commander of a combat group in training. While there he was cited for an act of heroism.

WAR MANOEUVRES

While flying one day he observed an artillery barrage being fired by a battery in practice creeping upon a troop of cavalry which was drilling in range of the guns. Flying back to artillery headquarters he made a difficult and dangerous landing in order to communicate with the artillery commander in time to stop the barrage.

At the expiration of the war Langstroth engaged in farming near Riverbank, where his father J. A. Langstroth, now resides. It was while he was en route to Modesto with his brother Martin, and four others, to attend a dance when the automobile in which they were riding rounded a turn about ten miles from Modesto and crashed headon into a cream truck. Young Langstroth was thrown from the machine and struck his head on the pavement. He died an hour later in a Modesto hospital. None of the others of the party were hurt.

KNOWN IN OAKLAND

The Langstroth family is well known in Oakland. The father recently moved to Riverbank, where he is engaged in farming. Besides the brother, who was with him at the time of his death, and his parents, young Langstroth is survived by Dr. Lowell Langstroth of Oakland, and Frank and Loraine Langstroth of Riverbank, formerly of Berkeley.

Tobacco Crop To Be Planted In Yolo County

Planters Get Together To Erect Factory; Cotton Proves Success.

WOODLAND, March 23.—Following the recent sale of 200,000 pounds of rich Yolo county grown tobacco, planters are taking interest again in tobacco culture in Yolo county, and although the large acreage planted in 1918-19 will not be duplicated, sufficient acreage of the weed to keep a projected factory going will be planted in the Esparto district by the Chifalkos brothers and several other planters who have made marked success in the enterprise.

Tobacco planters of Sacramento and Stockton district have joined the Chifalkos brothers in organizing a company to erect a mill of considerable proportions in the most suitable location in the vicinity off either Sacramento, Woodland or Stockton for the manufacture of choice cigarettes, the local product taking on the Turkish blend. The Yolo tobacco found an easy Eastern market after pre-war conditions returned. Growers believe that success will attend the industry during the current season. All the missionary and experimental work has been done.

Ammonia Sulphate Fertilizer Failure

Following the publication of recent stories from Rhode Island that ammonia suplhate had been used successfully in stimulating the growth of grass and at the same time in killing the weeds, creating a weedless lawn, C. F. Shaw, professor of soil technology at the University of California, gave out a statement today in which he declared that ammonia sulphate used in similar experiments here has brought forth an abundant growth of weeds as well as grass, and advises against its use.

Professor Shaw declared that it might be possible in a very sandy, loose soil, such as is to be found on Rhode Island, to use ammonia sulphate successfully, but stated that at the same time he doubted the success of such experiments. He declared that the California soil is not subject to the benefits of the usage of ammonia sulphate, and advised against its use for the purpose of combating weeds.

S. F. Murder Case To Go To Jury Today

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—The case of Margaret Clark, accused of the murder of Mrs. Tessie Lanny on the evening of November 20, was expected to go to the jury at noon today when court opened and the arguments of attorneys were resumed.

But four hours were required to present the evidence in the case during the trial yesterday. The defense is resting solely on a plea of lack of evidence to show the defendant's connection with the murder.

DISMEMBERMENT OF BOY'S BODY IS CLAIMED IN SUIT

Father Asks $50,000 From Health and Hospital Men For Alleged Mutilation.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Charging the dismemberment after death of the body of his 15-year-old son, Luther Marvin Needham, resulting in the complete prostration of the lad's mother, Danford F. Needham, a switchman employed by the Southern Pacific company today filed suit for $50,000 damages against members of the Board of Health and officials of the San Francisco hospital. The defendants include Dr. William C. Hassler, Arthur H. Barendt, president of the Board of Health, Guy Manning, A. P. O'Brien, George E. Somers, Lawrence Arnstein Jr., Frank J. Klimm and A. M. Sharp, members of the board, [illegible] Northington, superintendent of the San Francisco Hospital and its resident physician, Dr. R. H. Kistler.

Back of Needham in the action is said to be the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of which he is a member. Needham came here recently from Los Angeles, and on October 31 sent his son to the San Francisco hospital to be treated for an obstruction of the bowels. On November 3 the lad died, and Needham charges that the defendants outraged his body, alleging that they proceeded to "cut, open, hack, tear and disfigure" the remains.

VITAL ORGANS GONE

He says they removed all of the vital organs and delivered the body to him minus these parts and after they had cut an incision of the head the full length of the spine.

When he demanded that the missing member be delivered over to him he says his request was refused and he was forced to bury his boy thus dismembered.

Attorneys J. W. Henderson and Setlla Donovan were retained by him and drew up the complaint. So prostrated was Needham's wife that he says he was forced to break up his home here and send her to Los Angeles in order to save her life.

SAYS CONSENT GIVEN

Dr. R. H. Kistler, resident physician of the San Francisco Hospital, made the following statement in connection with the charges.

"I do not remember the case in detail, but I do know that Needham gave his verbal consent to the post-mortem examination. I know that he is a member of an organization which forbids autopsies. Of course, we would not have performed the post mortem without authority. It was the fact that the boy died from a malady the nature of which we could not determine that made us anxious for a complete examination. He did not succumb from obstruction of the bowels. It would be useless to perform a post mortem without withholding the vital organs, and this is done in all cases where permission is given and the body is interred without them. That is all that I can say about the case at this time."

Hotel Registers Are Introduced In Divorce Trial

Evidence Is Presented On Charge That Wife Was Unfaithful.

Pages of San Francisco hotel registers were introduced in evidence before Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure today, when W. A. Rogers attempted to show that Mrs. Martha A. Rogers had stayed at various hostelries with other men.

Rogers charges that Emil Brockhoff and E. C. Polley were affinities of his wife, and declares that when he warned Brockhoff his wife cursed and reviled him and said she would go with whomever she pleased.

Miss Emma Bray, of 640 Twenty-second street, sister of Mrs. Rogers, identified a letter introduced in evidence in which the wife admits that she had fled from her husband and her 12-year-old son with "Ed" Poley. "I want to get far enough away so we won't be bothered," she wrote to her sister.

Rogers introduced evidence to show that his wife had frequented dance halls and brothels with other men and that she clandestinely met strangers. The couple were married April 2, 1902, and separated May 9, 1920. Rogers asks the custody of his 12-year-old boy, Walter.

Dorthea Manderback was granted a divorce from Harry Manderback on her cross-complaint by Superior Judge J. G. Quinn today, after an agreement had been reached by which Manderback was to pay $35 a month for the support of his child and was to give his wife the community property.

After trying to effect a reconciliation, Judge Quinn said he did not believe that the pair could agree, despite their cosmic union in spiritualistic seances, and granted the divorce to the wife.

BROKER TO STAND TRIAL.

Patrick McNamara, insurance broker, will again stand trial in the superior court on a charge of embezzling $497 from F. F. Porter, insurance agent, 142 Broadway. Police Judge Edward Tyrrell, before whom his case has been pending for three months, today held him to answer. Bail was set at $2000.

PUMP USED ON TRIO.

Three men, one of them 76, said to have been poisoned at Sixth and Harrison streets today by wood alcohol, were treated at the emergency hospital. They were Jack Pine, aged 41; Charles Eddy, aged 50, and Robert Smith, aged 76. None is in a serious condition.

New Regulations Allow 21 Ounces Of Beer Each Day

By JAMES T. KOLBERT
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 23:—Principal provisions of the new regulation carrying into effect the ruling of former Attorney-General Palmer that manufacture and sale of beer as medicine is not illegal were learned today. They are:

That a doctor may prescribe four and seven-eighths gallons of beer for each ailing patient every thirty days.

That a doctor must find a good and sufficient reason for prescribing beer, that he must not prescribe the maximum more often than every thirty days, but he is not limited as to the number of patients for whom he may prescribe.

That manufacture of real beer cannot be carried on in the same plant used for manufacture of near beer, the kind containing less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol.

That breweries may sell only to wholesale druggists, who in turn sell to retail druggists, who must have permits to deal in real beer.

The regulations outlined were drawn under the direction of Internal Revenue Commissioner William M. Williams, a Democratic appointee. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon must approve them, and it was said he was reluctant to do so until they are reviewed by a Republican internal revenue commissioner. President Harding has let it be known he will not hurry about appointing a commissioner.

The new commissioner, when he takes office, may approve the present tentative regulations or he may order new ones drawn.

Death of Child Under Motorcar Is Investigated

Coroner To Hold Inquest; Conflicting Stories Are Told.

SAN JOSE, March 23.—Preparations were being made today by Coroner Amos Williams for an inquest over the body of 12-year-old Eva Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Davidson of 544 West San Carlos street, who was killed yesterday afternoon under the wheels of an automobile driven by F. A. Kauffman of 2828 Cherry street, Berkeley.

The accident occurred within a half block of the little girl's home as she was returning from the Gardner school. The child had started to run across the street in the middle of the block. Witnesses told conflicting stories of the occurrence. Some stated that she stumbled before she was struck, while others said that she did not fall until she was hit. One man stated that the machine slid 45 feet with locked brakes before it hit the child.

Kauffman stopped his car immediately, picked up the child and hurried her to the O'Connor sanitarium several blocks away, but the little girl was dead when they carried her into the operating room.

Terminal Case To Be Heard in S. F. April 18

Richmond C. of C. Receives Notice From State Railway Board.

RICHMOND, March 23.—Notice has been received by the Chamber of Commerce that further hearing of the Santa Fe terminal case will be held before the Railroad Commission in San Francisco on April 18. This hearing will be to show cause for continuance of the terminal at this city, after its return to Richmond on January 9, under a temporary agreement with the Railroad Commission. In the hearing next month the State Railroad Commission will act for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

During the war the Santa Fe used the Southern Pacific terminal facilities at Oakland and a hard fight was made to continue use of the terminal after the Southern Pacific had given the Santa Fe orders to move out. It was finally agreed that the Santa Fe should return to its Richmond terminal pending final settlement of the case. It is expected that the question will be settled for all times at the hearing next month and the right of one railroad to demand right to use another railroad's tracks and facilities finally established.

Because of the question of property rights involved the case has attracted state-wide interest, as it will affect similar situations in other cities.

"Good Citizenship" Is Luncheon Theme

ASK PARK IMPROVEMENT.

A plea from the Leona Heights Improvement Club for improvement of the small parklet at Brookdale avenue and High street was the only order of business before the board of park directors yesterday afternoon at its bi-monthly meeting. The park board decided to do whatever is possible until funds can be secured, possibly at the next budget, for this improvement.

The total coal stock of the United States to a depth of 3000 feet would make a cube of eight miles on each side.

ALLIANCE WITH U. S. PURPOSE OF VIVIANI MISSION

French Statesman Hopes For Society of Powers. Result of Visit.

By WILLIAM COOK,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, March 23.—The cornerstone of a new triple "association of nations"—the United States, France and England, may be laid in Washington by former Premier Viviani, now en route to America on a special mission to see President Harding. Viviani is due to reach New York on Sunday.

The view of a possible new "society of powers" was set forth today by Henry Franklin-Bouillon, former member of the French cabinet and until recently chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies. Franklin-Bouillon feels that under no circumstances will the United States enter the League of Nations or link herself in military alliance with her two big allies in the recent war. But he does believe that the three powers can cooperate effectively to maintain the peace of the world.

"Sending Viviani to the United States on such a special mission may contribute to modify America's attitude toward Europe," said Franklin-Bouillon.

"Now that the work of Versailles is definitely abandoned in America we must return to reality and reason. It is useless to count upon an alliance, let us try to create cooperation. Between the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon family, representing the United States and England, France should be the uniting link.

"Our common claims against Germany will oblige us in the years to come to reach a closer agreement with England. This policy would not be without danger to us and to the peace of the world were we not at the same time assured of a close agreement with the United States. It is France alone, strong in her sympathies for both and in her disinterestedness, who can realize this assertion of the three great democracies of the world."

KIDS' JOKE IS STRICTLY ON THE DEAD

MOUNTAIN VIEW, March 23.—An "April fool joke" on all the people who have relatives buried in Mountain View cemetery went flat yesterday when Town Marshal Ernest Copp and Special Curfew Officer S. P. Pope caught two small boys in the act of loading a dozen headstones from the graveyard into a small wagon. They forced the boys to replace the stones and then brought them before a local justice of the peace, where they were given a severe lecture upon respect for the dead.

Harvester Company Announces Wage Cuts

CHICAGO, March 23.—Wage cuts ranging from 5 to 20 per cent and affecting every one of its 45,000 men and women, including officials and subordinate officials, was announced today by the International Harvester Company under a program of reconstruction "based on an expert analysis of living costs, business possibilities and working conditions."

The reductions, according to the company's announcement, have already gone into effect in a majority of departments and will spread to the entire business in a short time.

Foreign exchange and other contributary causes, the statement says, prevented the customary spring purchase of farm machinery on a thriving basis and made either a very material reduction in working force or the wage reduction plan imperative.

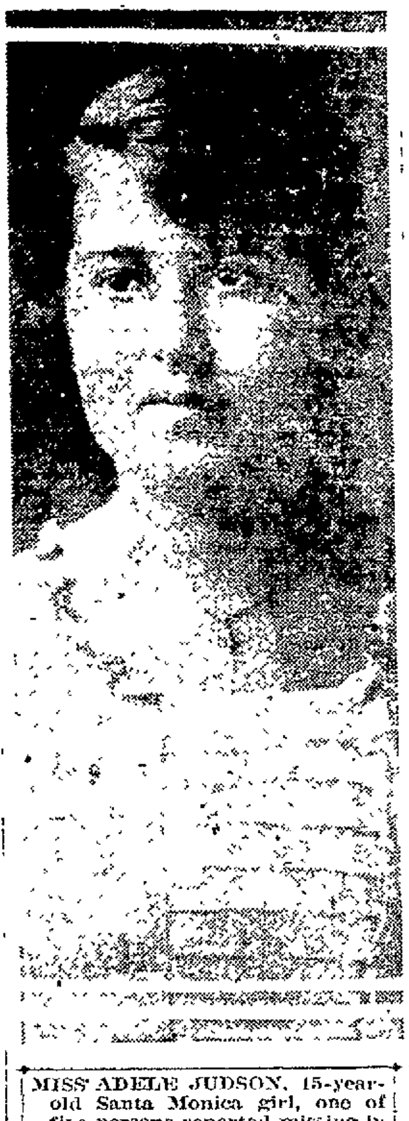
A Friend of the Family

Over fifty years ago a young physician practiced widely in Pennsylvania and became famous for his uniform success in the curing of disease. This was Dr. R. V. Pierce who afterwards established himself in Buffalo, N. Y., and placed one of his prescriptions, which he called his "Golden Medical Discovery," in the drug stores of the United States so that the public could easily obtain this very remarkable tonic, corrective, and blood-maker. Dr. Pierce manufactured this "Discovery" from roots and barks without alcohol—a corrective remedy, the ingredients of which nature had put in the fields and forests, for keeping us healthy. Introduce pure red blood into the system, and health is assured. When you feel run-down, out of sorts, blue and despondent try the energizing influence of this reliable tonic. You can obtain Golden Medical Discovery in tablet or liquid form at all drug stores, or send 10c for a trial package to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Buffalo, N. Y.

Three Girls, Boy, Woman and Baby On Missing List



MISS ADELE JUDSON, 15-year-old Santa Monica girl, one of five persons reported missing in the bay cities today.

White Slavers Feared By Relates in Case of One Absentee.

Three girls, a boy, a married woman and her baby are being searched for today by police of the bay cities. White slavers are feared in the case of one of the missing girls, while a love affair is held responsible for the disappearance of another. One girl her brother says, may have eloped.

Adele Judson, 15 years old, left Santa Monica on March 15 to join her father, W. B. Judson, in San Francisco. According to reports, she was seen in Berkeley yesterday. H. S. Swarth and J. Grinnell, members of the University of California faculty, attached to the museum of vertebrate zoology, and friends of the Judson family are assisting the police in the search. She is described as follows:

Fifteen years of age, but looking older; 5 feet, 4 inches in height, weighing 130 pounds, with light brown hair, gray eyes and silver band about her lower teeth. She was wearing a large yellowish brown cloth hat, blue coat, a blue-pleated skirt and tan laced shoes.

LOVE-GOD BLAMED

The love-god is supposed to be responsible for the disappearance of Ida de Respina, 19 years old, who left her home, 964 Fifth street, last night. Fred de Respina reported that he feared his sister had eloped.

When Mrs. Norma Kicherer, a domestic, employed at the Romona apartments in Berkeley, disappeared on March 7, she took her 3-year-old daughter with her, according to the report of the husband, residing at 5619 Edgeley street. The police have been called upon to locate the woman.

FEAR WHITE SLAVERS

Fear that perhaps white slavers have ensnared pretty Inez Ericksen, 18 years old, who has been missing for more than a week, Assistant Probation Officer Mary F. Quayle has enlisted the aid of the Oakland police in the search.

Paul Costa, 15 years old, 1432 Union street, left a note with his aunt yesterday, stating that he was going to strike out for himself and seek fame and fortune on the highway of youthful adventure, according to a report to the police today.

German Deserter Is Caught in Robbery

SAN JOSE, March 23.—Following a pistol and shotgun duel near here today, Albert Holt, 25 years old, who claims to be a deserter from the German navy, was arrested after he and a companion attempted to rob the Anzimi junction house, about two miles north of here. Holt's accomplice escaped after exchanging several shots with Victor Anzimi, who pursued him with a shotgun.

The two men had broken into the building shortly after 2:30 o'clock this morning and had smashed a safe, cash register and slot machine open with a sledge hammer, the authorities charge, when Benjamin Anzimi, who sleeps over the room, heard the noise. He pressed an electric button, which rang a bell in a cottage nearby where his brothers, Victor and Daniel, sleep.

The two men armed themselves with shotguns and entered the room where the two men were looting the safe. Holt's companion saw the men coming and ran out a rear door, firing his pistol. One brother kept Holt covered with his shotgun while Victor pursued the fleeing man, firing his gun. None of the shots apparently took effect and the man escaped.

Holt was turned over to the sheriff. He said that he deserted from the German navy in 1915 and made his way to this country, where he has lived ever since.

CLAIMS AGAINST BRITAIN PROBED BY U. S. SENATE

Seizures of American Vessel's Goods and Mails Under Investigation.

By J. BART CAMPBELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Great Britain's alleged silence regarding claims growing out of her seizure of American vessels, goods and mails and of her interference with American trade both before and after the entry of the United States into the World War, is being quietly investigated by Republican members of the senate foreign relations committee, it was disclosed today.

The whole subject probably will be opened up in the senate at the earliest opportunity. A mass of papers bearing upon it are now in the committee's possession, having been furnished by former Secretary of State Colby on the eve of his retirement from office in response to a senate resolution sponsored by Senator Lodge, Republican of Massachusetts, the committee's chairman, which called upon the state department for full information respecting American claims against the British government.

An examination of these papers, just completed by Senator Lodge, revealed that, although Colby had officially inquired of the British government as long ago as August 18 of last year as to what it proposed to do with respect to the adjustment of American claims, no final reply ever had been received by him. He indicated that though most of the claims had been outstanding since before the declaration of war against Germany, efforts of the state department to effect a settlement of them had proved unavailing.

In a communication addressed to Senator Lodge under date of March 3 and made public today, Colby stated:

"For obvious reasons American claims for compensation were not pressed against the British government durring the war. In a communication dated August 18, 1920, inquiry was made if the British government was prepared to enter into an arrangement for reciprocal adjustment of claims growing out of acts of American and British authorities incident to the war. No final reply has been received from the British government to that communication."

Attached to Colby's communication were copies of the voluminous correspondence exchanged by the state department with the British foreign office in a vain effort during and after American participation in the world war to obtain from the British government some final decision regarding American claims.

BENEFIT GAMES HELP SCHOOL TO BUY UNIFORMS

Pleasanton and Hayward Divide Honors in Basketball Contests.

HAYWARD, March 23.—Over fifty dollars was added to the athletic fund of the local grammar school as a result of the basketball games last night between this school and the Pleasanton teams.

Although the games had been intended to raise money for the band uniforms, it was decided that the proceeds from last night should be turned into the school fund for athletics and that another entertainment should be given later to aid in procuring the proper equipment for the band.

Two teams from each school competed in last night's contests. In the game between the lightweight teams Hayward was victorious with a final score of 26-6 in her favor. Under the direction of Coach Clark the following lineup brought the Hayward banner to the front: Alvin Monesa, Louis Vargas, Peter Crosby, George Parks, William Silva, Frank Nixon, David Bogard and Joseph Kavanaugh. All members of the team played before the close of the game. The Pleasanto lightweight team included B. Adams, E. Rose, M. Perria, C. Francisco, F. Dodge and J. Charbo.

A final score of 34-33 in favor of Pleasanton terminated a most exciting game between the heavyweight teams of the two schools that ended in a tie at the close of the time and caused the referee to add an extra five minutes of play, with the disastrous result fo rHayward. Hayward broke the tie in the first two minutes of the extra time with a free goal given on a technical foul by a Pleasanton man—pandemonium ensued and the referee had to stop the game and demand quiet. Then Pleasanton shot a goal from the field and before the Hayward boys could win back their former advantage the whistle blew.

The lineup of the local boys included Ernest Oliver, Victor Wallace, Frank Sioto, William Nouns, Stanford Swanson and Frank Rodrickes. The victorious Pleasanton team was composed of J. Anselmo, E. Elliot, C. Mason, J. Governor and S. Barris.

"I'd rather have lost the automobile," said Hippen yesterday, who has notified every police department on the Pacific coast to be on the lookout for the animal. The dog was formerly on the stage and Hippen says he would not attempt to estimate its value. "Tuxie" was guarding the machine when stolen.

U. S. Appeals Rail Monopoly Charges

Announcement is received here of the filing in Washington by the government of the appeal brief to the Supreme Court in the case of the Southern Pacific and the Central Pacific, lost by the government in the Federal Courts of St. Louis in March. The government seeks dissolution of Southern Pacific ninety-nine year leases control of the Central which enters Ogden and by means of which control, it is alleged, monopoly has been established and constant discrimination practiced against the Union Pacific. Federal contentions were lost in the district court before a showing that the Central was built and operated as one with the El Paso line originally and that the Southern Pacific is not, therefore, deliberately exercising its control to throttle competition.

Who Should Hold the Strings of the Family Purse—the Wife, Husband or Both?

"We should!" is the bellowing and positive chorus from the husbands.

"No; we should!" is the equally positive but less vociferous reply of the wives.

Thus it goes.

The TRIBUNE is offering a prize of $10 for the best, and $5 for the second best, answer to the query:

"Who Should Hold the Strings of the Family Purse—the Wife, Husband or Both?"

The TRIBUNE'S question is meeting with a prompt and general response from its readers. Every one apparently, has some idea on the subject. Answers have been received already, not only from husbands and wives, but from members of both sexes, who have not yet entered matrimony who have decided ideas on who should be the custodian of the family budget.

What do you think about it?

NO ONE IS BARRED

If you know, or think you know, enter the contest. No one is barred. The conditions are reasonable and simple.

Your answer must not exceed twenty-five words in length. It must be accompanied with your name and address. Address it to The Contest Editor, The TRIBUNE.

If it exceeds the twenty-five word limit it will not be given any consideration. If it is addressed in any other way than to the Contest Editor, The TRIBUNE, it will not be delivered to the Contest Editor.

The contest closes next Saturday night. Answers must be in the mail by that time, but the sooner your answer reaches the contest editor the better.

Here are a few of the early arrivals:

"No set rule exists. Each should have control for a stated period to determine which qualifies best as manager; this one should control the finances."—Lillian E. Martin, 3330 Elm street, Oakland.

"If a man and wife are both good financiers they should hold the purse strings jointly. Otherwise the better financier should hold them."—Mrs. A. C. Bennaure, 1975 Eighty-ninth avenue, Oakland.

"Fifty-fifty plan's the best—
Supercedes all the rest—
He'll never learn spendthrift ways—
On fifty cents twice in thirty days."
—Mrs. A. Graham, 794 Sixty-fifth street, Oakland.

WHICH IS THE ONE?

"Man and wife are one; usually, it is a question of which is the one; decide this, then loose purse strings to the other half."—Charles Covert, 518 Seventeenth street, Oakland.

"Both should have joint control over all expenditures, because The Great Creator pronounced them no more twain, but one flesh."—J. W. Dixon, 1381 Eighth street, Oakland.

"Wife is thriftier. But it is a fact that the husband is more competent to administer the finances because of his training."—Therefore, both should control."—Gertrude Stein, 569 Forty-eighth street, Oakland.

"If a man has a good trustworthy, economical, business woman for a wife she is the one to handle the money."

"The purse and bank account, the home comforts and hardships should be shared alike by both husband and wife." — Mrs. H. C. Bethel, 1973 Ninetieth avenue, Oakland.

CARNIVALS TO BE REGULATED

An ordinance imposing a $500 daily license on all carnivals operating on private grounds, as well as on public streets, was introduced before the city council this morning, at the request of Commissioner Baccus, but Baccus said that the form was not what he wanted and it was referred back to the city attorney.

The proposed ordinance is a result of a protest by East Oakland residents, who said that carnivals brought undesirable persons in their wake and did not improve the morals of the district where they appeared.

At the request of the "Observation of Good Friday" committee of various churches, the council voted to give all civic employees time off from noon to 3 p. m., Friday, to attend religious observance of Good Friday if they so desire.

The Children's Home and Day Nursery was given permission to befing Seventh street and Willow for their carnival, March 23 to April 3.

A petition of East Oakland residents that the sidewalks on Fiftieth avenue be graded was referred to the commissioner of streets.

Washington took three first places but got the majority of second and thirds and all of the relays. The following boys took first places: Henry Mills, Warrent Wright, Harry Richmond. The 60-pound relay team, composed of Carl Falk, Vincent Duffy, John Salmon and Henry Mills, ran within one second of the city record. GIRL, MOTHER AND TWO MEN SLASHED IN FREE-FOR-ALL

Row Over Rent Believed To Have Caused Knife Wielding Party.

ANTIOCH, March 23.—In what officers declare was a free-for-all melee in which knives were wielded recklessly a 15-year-old girl, her mother and two men were severely cut Sunday night in a brawl that involved more than a dozen persons. As a result Aurelio Bela was held by Constable Evan Thomas as a principal while an investigation is being made that will probably bring the arrest of several more persons.

Ollie Braganall, 15, received a cut in her head which required six stitches to close; her mother was cut on the wrist; Bela received a slash six inches long across his forehead and an unknown man was severely cut about the face and hands.

What precipitated the clash is unknown, but in the belief of officers it developed over a dispute on payment of rent money. Mrs. Draganall owns several homes and has rented them to a number of Mexicans.

Little information can be obtained from any of the combatants by officers. Bela denies that he precipitated the fight and has given officers the names of others who he blames.

It is believed others were cut in the fighting, but so far efforts by officers to learn their identity have been unavailing. According to Constable Thomas he found blood spattered freely around the porch of one of the homes. Most of the participants in the battle had dispersed when the constable arrived in answer to calls from frightened residents of the district.

Three Women Connected With Alcohol Fraud

Illicit Withdrawal of Spirits From Distillery Is Uncovered By U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—A third woman, whose identity is a mystery, came forward today in connection with the illicit withdrawal of alcohol from the Western Distilleries Company at Agnews. During the course of a five-hours' questioning by federal authorities, she divulged further information concerning the conspiracy, said to have been promoted by two women, one of whom is now under arrest.

Mrs. Fred A. Plumb of Burlingame, secretary of the brokerage firm of Youngberg & Co., is the woman under arrest.

Mrs. Hannah F. Gray, former matron of the Florence Crittenden Home here, has been questioned about the case.

Although William G. Walker, chief field deputy of the internal revenue division, and Sam F. Rutter, supervising prohibition field agent, did not divulge the name of the third woman in the liquor plot, they implied their belief that she has information of illicit withdrawal of liquor in addition to the $46,000 worth already drawn out by "raising" hospital permits.

Investigations are under way with regard to the activities of William J. Ahern of 24 California street, who was named by Mrs. Plumb as the man to whom the illicitly withdrawn alcohol was turned over when it was taken from the distillery at Agnews.

Although the records show that a liquor permit was granted to the Florence Crittenden Home by former Collector of Internal Revenue Justus Wardell, it was yesterday discovered that the home had never made any application for such a permit.

Wife Would Forego Alimony For Divorce

Mrs. Lou A. Ellis was willing to waive alimony, if insistence on it jeopardized her chance to secure a decree, she told Superior Judge T. W. Harris today. She was granted a decree on the ground of cruelty.

"I am willing to relinquish claim for alimony, judge," she said. "All I want is to be rid of him forever."

Judge Harris had intimated that because of charges by the husband he would not grant a decree to Mrs. Ellis if she insisted on the alimony of $75 a month asked for in the complaint. Mrs. Ellis charged that her husband presented a loaded revolver to her head and told her he would blow out her brains.

SHORT CHANGE WORKER BILKS BY OLD TRICK

A well-dressed stranger entered the cafeteria at 1502 Franklin street last night and asked Mrs. Nellie McWilliams, 1756 Franklin street, the cashier, for a $10 bill in exchange for change.

He laid down a $5 bill and some silver. Mrs. McWilliams handed him the $10 bill and then proceeded to count his change. It was 50 cents short. When she called his attention to this the suave stranger was voluminous in his apology.

He apparently placed the $10 bill in an envelope and taking his change he went out to get the other 50 cents.

An hour passed. When he did not return Mrs. McWilliams opened the envelope. It contained a piece of blotting paper.

Commission Ruling Upheld By Decision

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—The motion of the Arizona and Eastern and the Southern Pacific railroads for an order restraining the Arizona State Corporation Commission from enforcing certain of its rulings covering arbitrary allowances charged between the two lines, was denied here today in a decision handed down by two of the three federal judges who heard arguments in the case.

Judges [illegible] and [illegible] handed down the majority decision that there was no showing that the complainants lacked a source of adequate address through state courts for a determination "of the reasonableness and justness" of the orders of the corporation commission. In a dissenting opinion Judge Ross held the restraining order should be granted.

Ship Carpenter Shot by Marine At Mare Island

Victim May Die From Loss of Blood; Quarrel Is Hinted By Authorities.

VALLEJO, March 23.—Jack Hart, former Marine and Spanish war veteran, and now a ship carpenter at the Mare Island navy yard, was shot in the leg early today by Jos. Leal, Marine guard, stationed on the causeway. He is in the Vallejo hospital and may die from the loss of blood as the result of having been left lying on the causeway.

According to Leal, the guard who did the shooting, Hart approached him as he was walking his post and offered him a drink from a bottle. Leal said he refused the drink and Hart struck him over the head with the bottle, after which he placed Hart under arrest. He said Hart was apparently intoxicated and refused to be placed under arrest. He said Hart started walk away and that when he ordered him to stop Hart ran, whereupon he fired.

Hart walked about two blocks after being shot and dropped in the street. He lay there for an hour and half before he was picked up.

Navy yard officials are investigating the case.

Neighbors' Quarrel Detailed To Jury

On a charge that he fired birdshot from his shotgun at George C. Asmussen when Asmussen tried to tear down a neighboring fence, Manuel Garcia is being tried for assault with a deadly weapon before a jury in the Superior Court here today.

According to the prosecution, the feud over the fence began ten years ago, when a surveyor was called in and the first fence was built. H. C. Asmussen, owner of the property adjoining the Garcia place, alleges that Garcia moved the fence some time ago and that when George Asmussen started to move it back Garcia shot at him. Superior Judge L. S. Church is trying the case.

The ranches are located on Dublin Boulevard at Castro Hill. The shooting is alleged to have occurred July 29, 1920.

In the case of William J. Hickey, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, the jury disagreed. The charges against Hickey may be dismissed.

TOKYO, March 23 (correspondence of the Associated Press).—A special despatch from Wiju, Korea, narrates a serious encounter between Japanese forces and [illegible] Koreans near Wiju.

The police, while reconnoitering, encountered a large number of armed Koreans, who offered a stout resistance.

The Koreans, who were apparently on their way into the interior across the frozen Yalu, fought for nearly four hours before being defeated. Several revolvers and bayonets of an old type were captured. In the action Commander Constable Nakamura was killed while another police officer was wounded. The majority of the Koreans were killed, but some of the leaders escaped.

They kept watch on the narcotics and lay in wait for the arrival of the smugglers. In the darkness they heard an approaching skiff, and as they were about to close in on two men who were rowing towards the vessel, their presence was discovered. The men beat a hasty retreat while Barrett and Manley emptied their revolvers after them.

Saint Mary's holds a win over teams that have defeated her, with exception of Sacramento Coast League and she has a tie with that team.

Mr. Hartranft of Stanford Promises To Be a Sensation

Stanford University has unearthed a track and field freshman who promises to be a star at something or other in the near future. Last Saturday Mr Hartranft in his initial appearance for the Stanford freshman took first places in the hundred sprint, sixteen-pound shot put, broad jump and discus and finished up with a second in the javelin. This netted his team 23 points, but whether it would not be better for Mr. Hartranft to confine his ability to not more than two events or continue to jeopardise his future athletic ability by being a jack of all trades is a question the coaches will have to decide Past performances of all-around starts has shown that they don't get anywhere in particular in the long run. There is no question of this boy's all-around ability. The standard of his performances shows that, but you can't overwork those muscles that nature endowed us with and keep up the pace in everything.

Santa Clara To Play the Stanford Nine

SANTA CLARA, March 23—An improved team because of their experiences Saturday and Sunday against Bill Rodgers' Sacramento Coast League team, the University of Santa Clara baseball club left for Stanford campus this afternoon for the first of a three-game series It is believed that Harmon will start Purdy against the Cardinal today.

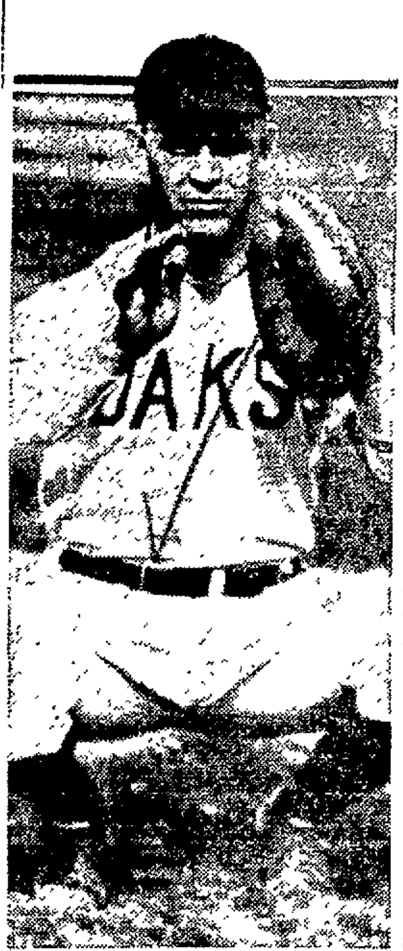
UMPIRES ASSIGNED

President William H McCarthy of the Coast League has assigned the umpires for the opening day of the season as follows:

At San Francisco—Finney and Croter.
At Sacramento—Phyle and Casey.
At Salt Lake—Byron and Toman.
At Los Angeles—Eason and McGrew.

Oak Rookie

LYNN POOL, young catcher from Ukiah who is trying for a berth with the Oaks.



U. S. C. Coming Here Saturday To Meet Bears

Charlie Paddock and Co. To Appear At U. C. Field.

Blue and Gold track athletes will have their first collegiate competition on the home oval Saturday when they go against the University of Southern California in a return meet. The Varsity easily defeated the southern institution at Los Angeles two weeks ago, score 88½ to 41½ and should repeat this time.

In the south the Trojans carried off 3 first places to the Bruins' twelve Charley Paddock accounted for two of these taking the hundred in 9:4 and the two-twenty in 22 feet on a muddy track. On the fast California oval pushed hard by Hutchinson of the Bruins Paddock should tie the world's record in the hundred and come close to it in two-twenty Boyle of the Trojans who won the discus in the South with a throw of 134 feet 7 inches is a sure first in this event. The rest of the meet will be a fight for second and thirds, the Bruins having all firsts cinched However, the 440 should prove a thriller, Hendrixon having defeated Schiller of U. S. C by a scant foot in the last meet.

All Satisfied But Manager Of Salt Lake

Coast League Clubs Are About Ready For the Fray.

You pay your money and you pick your choice as far as any club in the Pacific Coast League is concerned in these blithesome early Spring blossom days. Manager Gavvy Cravath, of the Salt Lake outfit, makes no bones about admitting that, so far, he hasn't any ball team, but only a small bit of chaos which he is trying to make something out of Bill Rodgers, skipper of the Sacramento Senators, will go so far as to predict that his gang is going to be one of the first division clubs from the tap of the starting gong until the last man is put out next October.

Then come Alfie Putnam, secretary of the San Francisco Seals and his field marshal Charles Graham, admitting that the lads from the vicinity of the Golden Gate are no less than the pennant winners of 1921. Those who have the destinies of the Vernon team in hand, are predicting exactly the same thing for themselves

There you have the whole gamut, from chaos to pennant winners from no less authorities than the men who must know all about it. The average baseball fan probably doesn't think much of the chances of chaos in a pennant race, but he also knows that the predestined pennant winner has blown up and what was chaos has confiscated the 14-carat wedding cake

Out of the past week has come somehting that one can actually put their finger on and say, "Here is something definite or almost so" This has to do with the infield layout of the Sacramentans Indications all seem to point to the final makeup as Mollwitz at first base, McGaffin on second, Pick at short stop and Lunte covering the third sack

L. A. UNSETTLED

Sports writers who have been making the rounds of the various camps seem to consider that the Los Angelans are a distinctly unsettled quantity, although none of them go as far as Cravath does in connection with his team and call it chaos Behind the bat the Angels are considered well fixed, but the hurling end is another matter entirely The addition of Lindimore and Carroll to the club is expected to have the effect of putting speed into the organization

The Portlanders still are in their embryonic stage but the veteran Walter McCredie has a faculty of seemingly, over night, transforming a baseball chrysalis into a butterfly so that embryo stuff may be old stuff by the time this gets into the press. Sports writers look with favor on the Beavers' catching staff, but taken all in all, there seems to be a considerable suspicion that McCredie has one of the weakest outfits in the league

There has been less said and written about the Oaklanders and the Seattle clubs than any two outfits in the circuit, but there is a well ingrained opinion that both of these teams are as nearly ready to start the official season as any of the Coast League organizations Probably no team will receive more public attention than Seattle as a result of the impression it made and left last season in its whirlwind finish.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By BUD MORIARTY.

Three high school athletic coaches are having their troubles this week in preparation for the playoff of the triple tie for the championship of the Oakland Athletic League in unlimited basketball. These men are Andy Hardin of Technical; Clarence Daddy Street of Fremont and "Oregon" Fee of University. At the start of this year's tournament, it was predicted by the sharpers that Fremont would run away with all opposition and that Oakland would be the runner-up However, the tables were turned, resulting in Technical and University popping up as dark horses of the blackest hue.

Tech's fate hung in the balance until they beat Oakland. This rub seemed to take the spirit out of the Blue and Whiters, for they dropped the next fray to Fremont, after being in the lead for three quarters, and topped it off by letting the upcoming University lads put over a win When University's five, not conceded the ghost of a chance by any of the schools, plastered that 16-13 victory over at the expense of the Oaklanders, Coach Fee saw that his charges had the necessary fight and that they could win ball games on that element alone. The hair-raising Fremont encounter demonstrated this, for the Blue and Gold forces took advantage of the apparent overconfidence of the Green and Gold men at the end of the first half and plugged along steadily to be returned a victor in the extra five-minute period to settle the 20-20 tie score

The contests that produced the tie were as follows:

February 24—Technical 20, University 16.
March 1—Fremont 25, Technical 20.
March 17—University 21, Fremont 20

Flashes From Myrtledale

MYRTLEDALE HOT SPRINGS, March 23—Only three more days of training remain for the Oaks on the diamond here, as Del Howard has decided that the bunch will catch the first train out of here Saturday morning and probably work out on the Oakland Coast League lot in the afternoon. Also Saturday has been set as the day when the pruning shears will be brought into use for the first time, and Howard announces that at least four members of the present squad will be cut loose from it. Just who the young fellows will be is hard to tell at this time. All the rookies have made quite a hit with Howard and Mitze

Bob Brown who was expected here last week, has not as yet arrived and Howard has sent him word that he will have to come and look the kids over if he expects to get any of them for his Vancouver club. Brown wanted Howard to make the selections for him, but Del says "nothing doing." Brown can pick almost a full ball club from the bunch that Howard intends to turn loose, and there are several other managers of Class B clubs who will be glad to get them if Brown doesn't hurry up.

There are two youngsters in camp here who came a long way to fight for regular places with the Oaks and they are deserving of credit for the fight they are putting up. We wonder how many boys from the Bay cities' lots would go as far from home as these two kids have and show the same old fight Earl Hilton, the Klamath Falls pitcher, and Johnny Emerson, the Chicago semi-pro outfielder are the boys from afar Hilton has a tough fight for a pitching job, but he is making quite a hit with Howard, and he is going to be given a thorough trial. Mitze thinks that a year or two in Class B ball for any of the youngsters in the camp will fit them for faster company. He picks Hilton above all of them.

Johnny Emerson has a tougher fight than anybody, as he is bucking four veterans and Charley Cullers for an outfield job Indications are that Cather, Miller, Wilie and Cooper will be the outfielders but Emerson says he will fight until he is told that there is no more use And then if he loses out, he will be glad to go to some other league and gain the experience. He is a fast runner, takes a nice cut at the ball and is a pretty sure outfielder He was out of place last Sunday in playing left field in Miller's place, as he is a center gardener.

Jack Knight and Hack Miller returned to camp yesterday after spending the week end at their homes in Oakland.

Hack Miller brought his ukulele back with him, and with Joe Boehling tickling the banjo strings, the boys had some lively entertainment in camp last night

California to Entertain the Phoenix Team

Saints Determined To Wipe Out Stain of Football Defeat.

By DOUG MONTELL.

St. Mary's vs. California is the best bet in the baseball field of attractions today when these two colleges hook up in their annual game on California field this afternoon. Bets are about even on the outcome with St. Mary's given a shade preference on their record to date for the season. The boys of Coach Joe Devine have an enviable record with a balance of wins to their credit that any college or university team would be proud of. The boys from the Oakland college are also anxious to do better on the baseball field than the Red and Blue eleven did last season on the gridiron. The memory of that 127-0 score still is a sore spot with the Saints and this is the first opportunity that the boys who acquire their learning on Broadway have had to get revenge on the Blue and Gold.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

It is certain to be an even go and with a holiday in order at the State University this afternoon there should be the biggest crowd of the season on hand to watch the Bears tangle with the Saints. The Bruins are not overconfident of annexing the session, but neither have they given up hope of taking the Oakland collegians into camp. The ball tossers on the Blue and Gold squad point to the comparative scores of the two institutions against the Olympic Club and maintain that the Bears trounced the clubmen with much greater ease than did the St. Mary's nine. All true in a way and it is impossible to make any dope comparison on the game. Besides, it is not in order—ball games on the diamond between two colleges are not to be predicted and after seeing Santa Clara fight the Blue and Gold to a 3-3 tie last week when the Bears were figured easy winners we pass the buck.

PROBABLE LINE-UP

No official announcement of line-ups has been made, but both teams are almost certain, except for the matter of batteries California's outfield looks to be Captain Moke Meyers in the center garden with Shad Rowe in rightfield and Radebaugh a favorite over Douthit to take left field at the start of festivities. Hermle, he of the left hand, is the season custodian of the first sack with Chet White having the edge over Dutch Eells at present to start at second. The Messrs Makin, Hal and George respectively can be counted on to take care of third base and shortstop. It is a toss up between Crip Toomey and Smith behind the bat. Toomey caught a nice game against the Olympic Club and displays more pepper in action than does Smith. If he is given a chance to work regular he should be one of the best receivers seen in a Blue and Gold uniform for some days.

WIELD WICKED CLUB

Rose, Rooney and either Dunne or Valencia will constitute the St. Mary's outfield. The first three named started against the Olympic Club Sunday and Rose and Rooney gathered three bingles apiece in that game. Dunne looked a trifle shy with the stick and if Valencia is not used on the mound he will probably play right field. Captain Fleischman will be at first with Cardoza at second, Doran at third and Holmes in the short patch. The St. Mary's infield all wield a wicked willow and can supply plenty of action on the paths. Against the Clubman they didn't look too good in the field with four errors accumulated between short, second and first, but the boys have played better ball than that in the other easy season games. Kelly is the most likely receiver on the Red and Blue squad

LOOKS LIKE SCHNELL

Choice of pitchers is always uncertain up to the last minute before the game starts Sentiment at California favored either O'Neill or Morrow to start against St. Mary's yesterday afternoon while Carl Schnell is most prominently mentioned as the selection of Coach Devine. If O'Neill and Schnell start the game will not be a slugfest for both of these boys are capable twirlers and with proper support in the field should hold the opposing nine down to a reasonably low score.

Baby Hospital Gymnasium Is Neded

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Out in the Baby Hospital much is being planned for the little mites of humanity of the broken bones and the twisted backs and the crooked legs. Stress is to be given to the orthopedic clinic where tiny bodies may be remodeled and made perfect by a simple surgery to those who know how and sometimes without surgery at all. Dr. N. Austin Clark has taken over the direction of this interesting department devoted to the juvenile patients and with a specially trained nurse who has come directly from Stockholm, is setting about putting into operation the science which he possesses and the plans which he has for the wiping out of the babies' bodily imperfections.

But a child's gymnasium, adapted especially to these youngsters, is the imperative need in the orthopedic wards. Simple it may be, but still demanding a treasury which the board of managers do not now possess. Corrective exercises properly supervised are large factors in the rehabilitation of the youngsters.

Here speak the Junior branches of the Baby Hospital. The young girls have volunteered to assemble the funds which will provide the gymnasium, but they are asking all of the public, their friends as well as strangers to help just a bid by their presence at a garden party and May fete on April 30 in the grounds of Mr. C. E. Hume, Piedmont avenue.

It will be an afternoon party with May queen and dancing and music. There will be gayly decorated booths where things to eat and wear and user will be found in bewildering array. There will be everything which goes into the making of a market place from chewing gum to white elephants to coax dimes and dollars from the generous who love a little child. More than 150 girls are giving over the next month to making plans for the gift to the Baby Hospital of its orthopedic gymnasium.

Mrs. T. A. Rickard is general chairman of the junior branches, assisted by Mrs. Rollo Fay, Mrs. C. E. Hume, Mrs. Frank Stringham, Miss Marian Ransom, Mrs. Percival Walker, Mrs. Frederick Whitton.

"Big Hutch" Found Guilty in 8 Minutes

LOS ANGELES, March 23. — A verdict finding Everett A. Hutchings ("Big Hutch") guilty of grand larceny was returned late yesterday by a jury in Superior Judge Frank R. Willis' court, after the jury had deliberated eight minutes.

The grand larceny charge of which Hutchings was convicted alleged he swindled J. E. Norris, a farmer of Decatur, Ill., out of $51,000 in a fake stock deal. He had been on trial since March 14.

FILM MEN'S BAN ON CLARA HAMON

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Declaring that Clara Hamon is seeking to "commercialize the notoriety achieved by her in the killing of a human being" by entering motion pictures, the executive committee of the Allied Amusement Industries of California today announced that it had passed a resolution prohibiting the exhibition by any of its members of motion picture films in which the slayer of Jake Hamon may be featured.

The resolution is in line with a policy announced by the organization some time ago of expunging from the films anything that tends to put a premium on crime or vice.

It points out that "Clara Hamon is not an actress and has had no experience as such, and her only value on the screen is due solely to the fact that she was a defendant in a notorious criminal trial."

In addition to containing a pledge of the members of the organization not to show any film in which Clara Hamon appears, the resolution also further resolves "that this association does condemn any and all attempts to improperly or unduly commercialize notoriety and crime."

Two Burglars Shot At By Policeman

Search is being conducted by police today for the two negroes, who, operating in an automobile last night, entered two Berkeley homes and one in Oakland and escaped with two gold watches, a silver meshbag and a pair of women's slippers.

Patrolman Louis Browning of the Berkeley police department came upon them in time to prevent the robbery of the home of Mrs. H. A. Sutherland, 1901 Stewart street. Giving chase in another automobile, he fired five shots at them, one of which is supposed to have taken effect. The two watches were secured at the home of E. T. Jarvis, 1110 Parker street, Berkeley. The mesh bag and slippers were taken from the home of Charles M. Nash, 776 Sixty-fifth street, Oakland.

The burglary at the Nash home occurred after they had been chased by Patrolman Browning and drops of blood found on the floor there cause the belief that one of Browning's shots took effect.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S FUNNY UMBRELLA

"Look out! Don't take that one!" called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning, as Uncle Wiggily was starting from the hollow stump bungalow to look for his daily adventure.

"Don't take that what?" the bunny gentleman asked his muskrat lady housekeeper.

"That umbrella," was the answer for Mr. Longears had stopped in the hall and was taking from the stand an umbrella to keep off the rain. "That's a funny one," said Nurse Jane.

"Well, I like funny umbrellas," Uncle Wiggily replied.

Then, before the muskrat lady could stop him, or explain why the umbrella was funny, Uncle Wiggily picked it up and hopped away, saying:

"I'm in a hurry to meet Grandfather Goosey Gander. He and I are going to the movies. He doesn't mind the rain, but I do. Even if it is only a spring shower it isn't good for my rheumatism."

"Well, that funny umbrella will not be very good for your rheumatism, either," said Nurse Jane, as she shut the door after the bunny gentleman. "You'll wish you hadn't taken it before the day is over."

And, surely enough Uncle Wiggily was not more than half way to Grandpa Goosey's house than it began to rain. It had looked like a shower when the bunny started out, and now it did more than look—it poured!

"Ha! It's a good thing I have an umbrella," said Uncle Wiggily. "I don't see anything very funny about it, though. Nurse Jane must have made a mistake."

He hoisted the umbrella, but no sooner was it held over his tall, silk hat, shedding off the rain, than, all of a sudden, down the umbrella snapped, closing up, pinching the bunny's paw and letting him get all wet.

"Whoa there, January!" cried the bunny. "I guess I didn't fasten you up right. The catch slipped."

Once again he hoisted the umbrella but he had not hopped many steps before down it slipped again, pinching his paw worse than before.

"Dear me!" exclaimed the bunny, as he felt the rain trickling down the back of his neck. "This must be what Nurse Jane meant when she said it was a 'funny umbrella.' It won't stay open, though, to tell the truth, I don't call it funny! I'm getting soaked!"

He had picked the worst umbrella of all in his hollow stump bungalow. And as he hopped along, the rain-shield continued to slump shut every once in a while, as the spring slipped.

"Well, I'll soon be at Grandpa Goosey's and then I'll borrow a better one, if he has it," thought Mr. Longears, when, all of a sudden, he heard a voice behind him saying:

"If you don't mind I'll walk along with you and keep out of the rain!" And up sneaked the old Woozie Wolf.

"Whoa there, January!" cried the bunny.

"Oh!" gasped the bunny, taken by surprise.

"You did'nt expect to see me I know," said the Wolf, "but I just got hungry for ears and——"

"Bing!" down slumped the umbrella, the ribs hitting the Wolf on the head.

"I say! What's the idea?" snapped the Wolf, angrily.

"Oh, it's just this funny umbrella," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "It goes shut every once in a while. Don't mind it."

"I shan't," answered the Wolf, "I'm thinking how good your ears will taste when I nibble them."

Uncle Wiggily said nothing. He walked along a little farther, holding the umbrella over himself and the bad chap when, all of a sudden, down it plumped again, one rib banging the Wolf on the nose.

"Oh, I say!" cried the Woozie fellow. "This is no fun."

"Nurse Jane said it was a funny umbrella," spoke the bunny, putting it up again. "However, it may not happen for a long time again."

But it did. Hardly had the Wolf and Mr. Longears walked ten more steps before "Sloops!" Down went the umbrella again, spattering water all over.

"Oh, I say! I'm not going to stand this, you know!" howled the Wolf, for he was banged on the head again. "I don't call this a bit funny! I'll wait until you get an umbrella that doesn't close up every once in a while," and away he ran, not hurting Mr. Longears at all.

"That suits me!" laughed the bunny, and then he soon reached Grandpa Goosey's, borrowed a good umbrella and he and Mr. Gander went to the movies and had a nice time. So this teaches us that even a paper of pins has feelings.

A FRIENDLY WORD

Seems like as though somebody here
Is always scatterin' joy and cheer.
I've never known a rainy day
But what some friend has come my way
To sort o' laugh the clouds away.

I ain't been one deservin' much
O' special favor an' the touch
O' generous hands in time o' need,
An' yet good friends, at double speed,
Have given before I'd ask or plead.

It seems t'me ten thousand eyes
Are tryin' t'take me by surprise,
An' watchin' all the time t'see
Just what the gift o' joy can be
Which they can come an' give to me.

I'd almost swear these friends o' mine
Possess some magic power divine
By which they learn from God above,
Or from the messengers o' love,
The very things I'm thinkin' of.

Honors I don't deserve have come
Almost to paralyze me dumb,
An' when I've tried to find out why
Men gave what money cannot buy,
Some friend would smile an' wink his eye.

Lord, but I've trod an easy way,
With friends to help me day by day,
With all its hurt an' pain an' woe.
This is a kindly world we know—
At least, I've always found it so.

CRY on GERALDINE'S SHOULDER

Now and then a big "human document" finds it's way to Jerry's desk —a letter which is a veritable cross section of life. Such a letter is of infinitely more value to you than any possible preachment which Jerry could write. Here is one of them:

Dear Jerry:

I am a man of [illegible]. I have been reading your articles on parents and children, and agreeing with them. I would like to give you some of my views and experiences. As far as discussing sex goes it is the thing that even some grandparent know the least about of any subject on earth. The ignorance regarding this subject is primarily responsible for most of the real sorrows of young people growing out of missteps that start their whole life career wrongly. EDUCATION IS ONE OF THE FUNDAMENTAL THINGS IN LIFE, yet most parents neglect it absolutely. Why can't those hidebound individuals, like Marion who criticised you recently, consider these discussions in the light of education? Heaven knows, some of them need it themselves and since they won't give children a knowledge of these things the public press is about the only agency that is able to take any steps in the right direction.

If mothers taught their sons something of the sacredness of womanhood, the purpose of her physical functions as regards sex, etc., they would be a little more trustworthy with a girl in their company. If fathers taught daughters how man regarded women who gave themselves up without the safeguard of marriage they would give that daughter a guiding knowledge which would invariably keep them safe. But the girls are left in ignorance, particularly of the all-important fact that THE WOMAN MUST FIGHT HER OWN INSTINCTS AS WELL AS THE MAN'S IN ANY LOOSE MORAL RELATIONSHIP. Not knowing this, she is bound to fail if once she enters into one.

Should Use Judgment

We can't have too much light on this whole subject, but we should also use sense of course. The fact that a few kisses are exchanged and a few hands held does not mean that the youngsters are headed straight for hell.

I personally have some memories of my younger days that I won't get over in a hurry and, try as I will, I can't make myself forgive although I lived for two centuries. My father never told me anything of sex. A printed pamphlet which I found on the street when a boy, just approaching adolescence, saved me. That whetted my thirst for knowledge generally as applied to both men and women and put my mind on a healthful plane so that I've been able all these years to control those forces and bring to married life a healthful, vigorous body to transmit to my children.

Give your children the facts of life—let them have healthy minds and learn self control. Nearly always the person who refuses to be frank about these matters has anything but a healthy mind. Many "pure people," so called, have minds that were dragged through a sewer—therefore they can't find anything but filth in the institutions which nature gave to us in the expectation that they would be recognized, given their place in life, and controlled.

We can't have too much such education and the fact that the public press is enlightening the people so that some can profit by the errors of others and escape evil pitfalls is a healthy sign of the times.

Whipping Children

I don't think that whipping children does anything but instill fear in them which remains with them all through life, teaches them deceit to avoid it, makes them afraid of laws, police and all other restraints and deprive them of that greatest trait in character, THE COURAGE TO HONESTLY ACKNOWLEDGE WRONG. Because of this fear and lack of courage they are unable to set themselves right if they do go wrong thereafter. It often perverts a high spirited child by implanting ideas of vengeance which he never gets over.

I used to lie awake at nights dreaming of the time when I'd be big enough to pay Dad back in his own coin—for I never got a whipping which I didn't regard as an injustice BECAUSE THOSE WHIPPINGS WERE REALLY ONLY FOR THINGS WHICH HAD CAUSED IRRITATION TO MY PARENTS AND I HAD TO TAKE THE CONSEQUENCES. They weren't really "for my good," although of course they said they were—but children are quick to see through that sort of injustice.

Time has changed that—at 16 I knew it would be wrong to strike my father. But many children don't get over that feeling. If you don't agree with me it is because you haven't studied child minds.

Too frequently, as Jerry says, people want to gratify their own desires through their children. Many a poor clerk would be a first-class barber and so on, if it were not for the misfits of life for which many parents are responsible. WE ARE NOT THE CAPTAINS OF OUR CHILDREN'S DESTINIES.

To be brutally frank, those children are often here as the result of our association as men and women, and not because they were wanted. They had no choice in coming to the world and by our prejudice, our ambitions, etc., we do our best to spoil their chances for a full understanding of life so that they can earn a competence in work where they fit and find their right place in the community. Think it over!

A READER AND A FATHER.

Listen, World!

I always did like this quotation from Stevenson.

"Noble disappointment, noble self-denial, are not to be admired, not even to be pardoned, if they bring bitterness. Gentleness and cheerfulness these come before all morality—they the perfect duties."

Sorta upsets our established notion of things, doesn't it? We felt that there was a spiritual glory in "doing without," and in suffering, which the rest of the gang oughta appreciate. But the rest of the gang doesn't appreciate, and it's a jolly good thing they don't. FOR OF ALL WAYS OF WASTING HUMAN EFFORTS, SACRIFICE IS ABOUT THE WASTINGEST.

If you've gotta keep company with ole Mr. Sacrifice do it with a GRIN!

There are sacrifices and sacrifices. Some of 'em we can't avoid, and we should do them beautifully for the sake of the beauty that lies in them—whether the other fellow appreciates it or not.

But if there isn't any beauty in the sacrifice, or you can't see it, you'd better be leery of both the sacrifice and yourself. For God meant that beauty should be there, in that as well as everything else. Such sacrifices are upstanding contracts between yourself and Him, and you'll profit by seeing them through. If you have to weep and cuss, which of course any normal human does in moments of sacrifice, do it in private—and go out to face the world with your armor shining.

But that's only the unavoidable sacrifices. I truly believe that most sacrifices are avoidable and, when possible, I believe in avoiding 'em as you would the past. I don't believe they are beautiful, or uplifting or admirable—if there's any way out. Nope, I'll sprint a mile any day to avoid a Sacrifice. But if I've got to link arms with the old thing—WHY I'LL DO IT WITH A GRIN!

Parents Own Children?

The following letter does not agree with Jerry, n with "a Reader and a Father":

Dear Jerry:

I am a young man of 29, Jerry, why do you say that our parents don't own us? Are we not their own flesh and blood? Have they not made lots of sacrifices for us? I know that my parents did. I have only a mother left and, Jerry, I think that she owns me just as she did when I was a little baby. If it was not for my parents I would not be what I am today. I don't say I'm much—but just a home boy who loves his mother.

Now Jerry, I've read your column sinc it started and I have never read one part that speaks of our parents. Why don't you give a page some day about our parents—what they do for their children, etc.

Just a word to "Unprejudice" and "Marjorie D."—you started the smoking question and you never came back to defend yourselves after the bombardment. As to the girl who stopped smoking because she was approaching Motherhood, I think she was a TRUE BLUE MOTHER. Here's success to you, Jerry.

FAITHFUL.

I'm glad you wrote that "A home boy who loves his Mother," Pal. I think it is one of the liveliest things that anyone could be. Let me assure you with all my heart, JERRY BELIEVES IN MOTHERS AND BELIEVES IN LOVING THEM. NOTHING IS TOO GOOD TO GIVE A GOOD MOTHER OR A GOOD FATHER. And when I said that "parents do not own their children" I did not mean in any way to belittle the beautiful relationship between parent and child. Instead, I was trying to raise the conception of that relationship to a higher, finer plane.

The simple, plain truth, which Jerry did not originate, is that NO HUMAN BEING CAN OWN ANOTHER HUMAN BEING. Such possession, such slavery is against the deepest law. A man does not own his wife nor a wife her husband, a parent does not own a child. They can love each other, be bound to each other by a thousand tender communions and services, their every joy and pleasure may be shared, and life may be desolate if the other be taken away—BUT STILL THEY DO NOT OWN EACH OTHER and in moments of critical decision they have no right to intrude a sense of proprietorship. OUR SOULS MUST WALK FREE.

Phrases vs. Fact

Like many loving, sincere souls, "Faithful," you are letting your life be guided by sets of phrases which sound sweet and soothing, but in reality mean nothing whatever. For instance, you ask "Are we not their own flesh and blood?" Stop and think how senseless that phrase is. Of course you're not their own flesh and blood. The initial miracle of your birth was caused by your parents, but that little scrap of mortality which was born then vanished over a score of years ago. If mere physical elements decide who "owns" us, then we would belong far more to the sheep, cows and pigs we consume at meals than we would to the parents who gave us birth.

But of course physical elements can't decide who owns us. That's why that phrase "our own flesh and blood" is silly twaddle. You are nearer to your mother in love and intimacy, provided she be a good mother, than almost anyone else on earth. BUT YOU ARE NEAREST OF ALL TO YOURSELF. Even from your mother you are apart. No matter how much you love each other or have helped each other, IT IS STILL UP TO YOU TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR YOUR OWN LIFE. She didn't own you when you were a tiny baby—she does't own you now. She is simply your natural guide, protector and friend—more than that she cannot be.

As for my column not being for parents—for the love o' Mike, lad, where are your eyes? There are parents in here by the dozen every day. To be sure I don't discuss them just as parents, but as human beings. What more can I do?

And I, too, think that little girl was a True Blue Mother, not just because she stopped smoking one cigarette per day, but because she did what she did from love.

About Love-Sick Birds

Dear Miss Geraldine:

I read your columns in The TRIBUNE and, believe me, your advice is "snookum." I have been in the Arctic for thirteen years and believe me anyone from the far north appreciates a home and a good woman. Some of these love-sick birds should get out in the wilds for a few years and then start to make a holler about friend wife and sweetheart.

Now Miss Geraldine, I want your advice. I left home, friends and everything for a girl. I lived in the South in Kentucky, and believe me, we sure have some swell girls in our home town. I loved a girl as much as any man could, but a friend of mine seemed to have all the chance. I left so as not to cause trouble and afterwards found out that this girl did like me. Now do you think that after thirteen years I will stand a chance? I have money, so I am all "snookum" that way, but what all us old Sourdoughs want as Robert Service says—"A home far from the things that are—etc."

DELOS McCOY,
A Sourdough.

Here's my hand, Pal. I would have liked you even if you hadn't quoted Service, but since you have I'm yours for life. And truly I'm hoping that the years won't have made any difference. It all depends on the girl of course. The years in themselves won't matter. And if she's as big and true as the Sourdough man who "left so as not to cause trouble," her heart will be waiting for you lad. I hope it is—and I hope that this other verse of Service's will come true for you—

"For look, lass! at night when I break from the fight,
My Kingdom's awaiting for me;
There's comfort and rest and the warmth of your breast
And little ones climbing my knee.
There's fire-light and song—Oh,
the world may be wrong!
Its empires may topple and fall;
My home is my care—if gladness be there
It's a mighty good world after all!

A Terrible Thing

Dear Geraldine:

A terrible misfortune has befallen me. I am a young man, 38 years old, and have been keeping company with a young woman of 18 years. She has realized that I am quite a bit older than she, but everything was all right until last night. I took off my hat and my toupee fell off! I am bald, and now she won't have anything to do with me. I had never told her what a terrible thing fate had done to me. She has told me never to see her again. What can I do? I am madly in love with her and cannot live without her. Life now holds nothing for me as she is the only girl in the world for me. Oh what shall I do, Geraldine—what shall I do?

M. H.

(Name and address withheld.)

I am afraid, Pal, that the evidence is all too plain that she loved you for your toupee alone. If her love can't survive a little parting from your hirsute adornment, how would it survive 'till death do you part'? Take heart, brother, and do your courting unadorned next time. It's a kinder world to bald folks than you dream. Quite a few of the ladies wear something in the way of a toupee themselves.

Dancing and Movies

Here's a heart warmer for you—with a few nifty side thoughts on life in general:

Dear Geraldine:

Here are a few wild words from a perfectly awful man of [illegible] years. You asked me to come forth, and here I am! Not that I am bursting with knowledge, or full of experience; but that I just wish to say that you are right in all you tell your readers—always right.

I, too, abhor the silly stuff that idle, mawkish old Tabbies insist on telling the young. And especially do I want to pull the whiskers of a certain man who wants dancing, etc., abolished.

I wish to say with all the emphasis I can bring to bear, that I firmly believe that sex is the last thought in the mind of dancers. And as to motion pictures, the "movie" is the greatest factor in the moral, intellectual and spiritual life of the people today.

"Jerry," accept my best wishes and most hearty indorsement. You are sane and wholesome. Keep up the good work. You are shooting at the same mark which dear old Charles Dickens was so fond of peppering. I am only one, but I'm with you.

"DAD."

And here's a letter which should make many a man stop and think:

Dear Geraldine—Jerry, you said you wanted to hear from the men. Well, here goes. No, the men are not all bad, not by a long chalk. And the things that belong to life are not bad. There are some things that make good things bad. A lot of us fellows used to go out for a time. I helped take one of the fellows home one night. He was pretty well stewed. He wasn't a bad sort, the fellows all liked him, and he seemed pretty good to his family.

I shall never forget till the longest day I live the look in that woman's eyes. I got what it meant and I had never thought about things that way before. Now I'm married and know some things that I did not know then. I know that married life can be Heaven or hell according to the way it's lived. Well, when I think of taking that poor soak with no more sense of decency left than a louse and leaving him on that woman's hands, I sometimes wonder if Saint Peter won't turn me back from the pearly gates with the look in that woman's eyes. We'd been laughing at the things he'd been saying; as I remembered them afterward they didn't make me laugh.

Jerry, you seem to have it in for the reformers, but I bet there was about a million women in this little ol' U. S. A. that were willing to hand it to reformers or whoever it was that canned the booze.

GEORGE D.

Indeed, Pal, I have nothing against honest, helpful "reformers." I'm simply "down on" fanatics. I truly believe that a greater blessing never happened to this country than the closing of the saloons. I have seen the horror and fear in women's eyes too and I shall never forget it.

Geraldine

Winifred Black Writes about FOLKS AND THINGS

BOY AND GIRL REFORMERS

The girls and boys at Urbana, Illinois, are having a perfectly wonderful time reforming each other.

The girls have taken a solemn vow not to go anywhere with any young man who smokes cigarettes. They won't dance with him, they won't drive with him, they won't even have an ice cream soda with him. And as for falling in love with him, horrors!

And the young men have formed an organization and declare they intend to make the girls over into "the kind of girls our mothers were."

WHAT THE BOYS DECLARE

All members of the boys' organization have taken a vow to taboo any girl whose skirts are shorter than they should be.

And no girl who wears a low-cut dress hall be honored with a partner.

Rouge, lip-stick and powder are on the blacklist, too.

No silk stockings, either!

Plucked eyebrows and large puffs of hair covering the ears will not be tolerated.

Hurrah for the boys!

I wish they'd form clubs like that in every town in the United States.

It's all very well to make fun of a girl with painted face, plucked eyebrows and ridiculous hair, but—if you laugh at her behind her back and send her flowers and take her driving and make her the belle of the ball whenever you get a chance, boys—you can't blame her for wondering which you really mean—the way you talk or the way you act.

Oh, yes, of course we all know the ancient masculine camouflage! We've all heard it a hundred times.

"Totty Coughdrop is all right for a moonlight party or a gay drive, but—when it comes to marriage—give me Mary Homespun every time."

Ah, yes—so you say—but in the meantime, little Mary Homespun has to stay home and make fudge for just herself, while you wear a patch to the front porch of Totty Coughdrop—and she never has to make fudge at all. She'd scorn anything so home-made. She gets all the candy she wants in beautiful boxes, and she gets it from you and men like you who are always talking about the ridiculous way the modern girl dresses, and telling each other that what they really admire is a modest, quiet, little home-body.

Be consistent, gentlemen! Be consistent!

After all, you know, the home-and-marriage conversation sounds very well, but a girl doesn't want to marry the minute she gets out of school. At least, the modern girl doesn't. She wants to have some fun first, just a little wholesome, innocent, light-hearted fun. Why shouldn't she?

ACT AS YOU TALK

And it's mighty lonesome for Mary Homespun sitting home by herself, while you and Totty Coughdrop spin up the avenue in your brand-new roadster.

If the men of this country really wanted the girls of this country to dress differently, they could change the fashions in just one evening.

Boys, do you truly disapprove of short skirts and plucked eyebrows and painted cheeks?

The next time the country club gives a dance, attend it and don't dance with a girl who isn't dressed as you think she should be dressed.

If you and a few of the rest of the men would act as you talk, you could change the whole face of the country as far as the looks of the women are concerned.

Why don't you try it, just for fun—and let us know the results?

SMILES

First Maid—Your fiance stutters quite a bit, doesn't he? Second Maid—Yes, but it doesn't matter. After we are married he won't have a thing to say, anyway.

She (pettishly)—I don't see why it is you find poker so fascinating. Husband—It's the queens in the deck, my dear. They remind me so much of you.

Letters of Tessie & Joe

DEAR JOE—

Well, Joe, here I am back home again, baby and all. After all, Joe, there's no place like hom—especially not relations' houses. Not that my sister Gerty was what you might call up and down inhospitable, but she did drop several ambiguous remarks, such as that she hated company and that a baby's place is in its own home and that she was glad I had told her in advance I was coming because she can't stand unpleasant surprises.

Well, Joe, I guess you know I can respond to a hint as quick as the next one, so after the second day of repeatedly continual remarks of that gender on the part of Gerty I spoke of packing my bag to go, thinking that would be a good way to find out her real feelings on the subject, and when she offered to help me pack I just simply decided then and there to call her bluff and really go. Of course I may have misjudged Gerty because she really did bid me goodbye with much more animation than she showed when I arrived.

Hilma, my Finnish maid, is still with me. In fact, she's stayed so long now that I'm beginning to be suspicious of her and I'd be really uneasy if I had any jewelry or anything to be uneasy about, not that I'm saying that to call attention to the fact that you've never bought me that diamond ring you've been promising me year after year. The only thing Hilma does that seems suspicious is to continually leave the door of the ice box open, which is bad for the ice, especially the brand of ice that the iceman has been leaving lately, which melts without the slightest encouragement. I suppose it's not very well frozen or something. Anyway, do you think Hilma is in league with the iceman and leaves the door of the box open to help the ice melt?

Love from self and child.

TESSIE.

Woman Praises Sing Herbs

Almost bedridden by a condition which seventeen operations by almost as many doctors failed to cure, Mrs. L. M. Odbert, 551 63rd st., found lasting relief in the treatments of the Sing Herb Specialists, whose work she praises in the following letter:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
An ailment that kept me almost bedridden, baffled numerous physicians, failed to respond to seventeen operations, and promised to cause my death, with my only hope of recovery in another operation and hospital treatment, has been cured in five months' treatment by the Sing Herb Specialists.
My condition was so bad at the time I gave my case into their hands that they feared I would die within two weeks and promised a cure only if I survived that time. Their treatment showed good effects at once and within three months I felt better than I had in years. Now, only five months from the time I feared immediate death, I am feeling well and strong. The terrible pains and headaches I suffered have gone and I am able to do my housework once more.

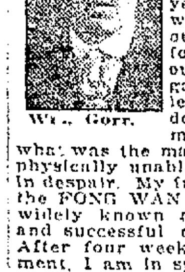
LETTER OF GRATITUDE FROM TRADE UNION IRON WORKER
Oakland, Cal.



Wm. Gorr.

For about four and one-half years I suffered from Dysentery. I gradually grew worse and finally became so ill that for 3 years I was unable to work. I tried numerous doctors and spent four months at various hospitals without gaining relief. At least five different doctors wanted to cut me open to find out what was the matter but I knew I was physically unable to stand it. I was in despair. My friend asked me to try the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST, widely known as the most reliable and successful on the Pacific coast. After four weeks of his herb treatment, I am in splendid physical condition and am feeling fine. Words cannot express my gratitude. I am a trade union iron worker and am back at work again. If any person desires further details I will gladly furnish them. WILLIAM GORR, 560 Adeline st., Oakland, Cal.

4-ton Engines Go To Mexico; $1200 Is Express Rate

GAS engines, made in Oakland, are being shipped to the East Coast of Mexico by express at the rate of $1200 each. They might go at $440 by water but they are wanted for launches and towboats at once.

The Union Gas Engine company is exporter. It has just shipped a sixth engine. Each weighs four tons.

O. H. Fischer, president of the Union, says the order is the direct result of the exchange of visits between Oakland business men and the Mexican Good Will Commission. The Mexicans would have spent two days more in Oakland had their itinerary permitted, Fischer said.

ALASKAN FLEET YARD IS CLOSED; WAGE DISPUTED

Ships May Not Go To Banks This Year; 250 Affected.

Announcement of policy of the Alaska Packers' Association relative to spring sailings for the Alaskan fishing banks, has been awaited following a complete shutdown of the shipyard in the estuary last Saturday.

Twenty-eight vessels, which were understood to have been ordered to outfitted for the northern cruise are lying in the yard.

According to fishermen who have sailed annually on the boats, a question of reduced wages lies at the bottom of the shutdown which is laying off 250 men including sailing crews.

The fishermen who ask 9 cents a fish for the catch and $200 for the roundtrip to the banks as previously paid, declare this year they are offered only 7 cents a fish and $150 for the round trip.

E. K. Tichenor, general manager for the association, today admitted that the Oakland yard closing was complete but indicated that the policy of the company had not been fully determined.

Outside the association, it has been said that the fleet would not be sent north this year, following the small catch last year, unless it could put to sea with decreased payrolls.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 23.—Strength developed in the wheat market today after a hesitating start. Talk of export business with Greece tended immediately to encourage bulls. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c decline to ½c advance with March $1.51¾ and May $1.42½ to $1.43½, were followed by a moderate sag and then by upturns all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Later sentiment turned bearish, owing largely to absence of export call. Prices closed heavy, 1 1-8 to 1⅜c net lower, with March $1.50 5-8 and May $1.41¼ to $1.41½.

Corn, after opening 1-8 to 5-8c higher, including May at 65½@65⅝c, declined temporarily then scored gains anew.

Oats started 1-8c to 3-8c higher, May 40 7-8 to 41c, then weakened somewhat but soon rallied.

Provisions were dull and irregular owing to uncertainty over labor troubles.

Stock Market Stimulated by Motor Shares

NEW YORK, March 23.—The New York Evening Sun's financial review this afternoon said:

"Today's stock market was strong and active from the outset. A decided stimulus was imparted to virtually the entire list in the first hour by brisk buying of the motor and tire shares. At the end of that time there was some taking of profits and for a brief period the advance was neutralized. Shortly after noon, however, a spirited forward movement was suddenly set in motion among the railroads and was readily communicated to the industrials. This movement lasted only an hour or so, and realizing sales were invited anew.

"The shorts were again extremely hard pressed in the last hour, in which period the best prices of the day were established. The motors and oils were particularly buoyant, but the whole list was not far behind. Bonds were active and steady. Cotton was strong. Grains were under some pressure.

MILK INSPECTION EQUIPMENT URGED

At the end of an inspection of the Oakland milk department by Dr. John S. Hay, state market milk inspector, recommendations have been made to Commissioner Morse for a new and better equipment at the City Hall to handle the examination of milk samples. Except for poor laboratory facilities, Dr. Hay asserts that the Oakland milk inspection bureau ranks high in the states and is doing good work in keeping the supply up to standard.

Before starting for San Jose to inspect the supply there he added:

"Organization of dairymen supplying milk to Oakland is now under way by the Milk Producers' Association under the direction of Dr. Chas. C. Wing, for the grading of milk on the basis of bacterial counts and adequate laboratory equipment is being installed for that purpose. This system will encourage the production of high quality milk and will insure for the city of Oakland a supply of high-grade milk of uniform good quality and remunerate the producer in accordance with the quality produced.

"It is foreseen by the producers and distributers alike that with milk of uniform good quality being produced a greater consumption of milk products will naturally result, and in view of the keen competition from imitation products, which may taste "just as good" sometimes, it is recognized that the matter of quality is of paramount importance. Education of the consumer is now recognized by producers to be of vital importance in the matter of differentiation of the nutritive value of milk products and imitation milk products."

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 23.—The cotton market had a more active opening today than in some weeks. First prices were 13 to 36 points higher. The chief basis for the strength was a pre-holiday covering movement based on strong cables. Better advices from Manchester and a more hopeful feeling in regard to European conditions also helped sentiment.

Renewed buying in the late dealings caused recoveries from early reactions. The close was steady at a net advance of 55 to 60 points.

FLOUR PRICE REDUCED.

One Portland, Ore., flour mill has cut the price of flour 80 cents to $9 a barrel. Other millers have reduced family patents only 40 cents. The cuts are the result of recent declines in wheat, the millers announce.

Local Market Notes, Gossip

Initial offerings were on the Oakland potato market today at quotations ranging around 10 to 12 cents a pound. The early diggings were not of particularly good quality and not more than a dozen bushels were offered. The general potato market continues to be very strong.

Rain did the expected to the asparagus market, and today receipts from up river districts were off a half, cutting being seriously hampered. Notwithstanding the drop, another car of Oakland asparagus was filled last night and started for New York. Top quality asparagus brought 14 cents today.

One more unusual pre-Easter decline in poultry was posted today when Leghorn hens sold off two cents on the Oakland market. Yesterday frys were reduced 5 cents. Heavy offerings are the cause. The demand is about as usual.

Good shipments of Imperial Valley lettuce have operated to cut the price of that staple twenty-five cents a crate. Following the flurry last Saturday an advance of 75 cents was noted on most crates. Good lettuce was to be had today for $3.50 and $3.75.

In the face of a brisk demand for tomatoes, Oakland commission men were scurrying to obtain lots of Mexican shipments today. The incoming tomatoes have been very poor in quality, most of them green, and repacking has been the rule. Repacked boxes were sold today at $3.75. Most of the tomatoes were unripe.

Declining offerings in leeks have driven that vegetable from 40 cents to $1.20 a dozen bunches in a few days. There is little trading in leeks, however.

OILS AND MOTORS CONTRIBUTE TO HIGHER PRICES

Firmer Tone Shown At Active Opening of New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Oils and motors contributed largely to the firmer tone of the stock market at the active opening of today's session. Atlantic Gulf, Chandler and Kelly Springfield Tire soon rose a point or more, similar advances being made by Republic Iron and retail stores.

Pacific Oil also moved upward, as well as General Asphalt, Mexican Petroleum, Endicott, Johnson, Westinghouse Electric and May Department Stores.

The only important issues to register early recessions were New York Central, Royal Dutch and Sears-Roebuck.

Materially higher prices were made by oils motors allied specialties and many miscellaneous issues during the listless forenoon. Studebaker, Pierce-Arrow preferred and U. S. Rubbers scored extreme gains of 3 to almost five points. General Asphalt, Mexican Petroleum, Royal Dutch and Associated Oils gained 1 to 2½. Shipping rose 1 to 2 points and steels and equipments shared to a like extent.

Rails failed to show any animation. Call money again opened at 6½ per cent.

The rise assumed broader proportions during the mid-session, rails of the investment and speculative groups then developing marked strength, Pacific and coaler ler the movement at gains of 1 to 2½ points. The early advance elsewhere was irregularly extended later when call money declined to 6 per cent. Final prices were to almost 2 points under their best, however, on profit taking. The closing was easy. Sales approximated 1,200,000 shares.

Corporation Business Total Is Near Two Billion: Big Surplus.

In its nineteenth annual report released today the United States Steel Corporation reports net earnings for 1920 as having been $130,000,000 which was an increase of $31,959,000 over 1919.

Production of ore mined totaled 27,021,000 tons, against 25,123,093 in 1919.

Blast furnace production showed only a moderate increase, but rolled and other finished products rose from 11,997,935 tons to 14,228,502 tons.

Lumbermen Issue Price Challenge

CHICAGO, March 23.—Lumber dealers have issued a challenge to the Illinois Society of Architects to prove charges made in the society's bulletin that lumber prices are 150 per cent higher than in 1914. An offer to pay $1000 to charity if the charge is proved has been made, and E. E. Davison, president of the Architects Society declared today he would accept the challenge.

The lumbermen assert prices are only sixty per cent above the 1914 level and that a third of that is due to high cost of transportation.

Increased Alaska Commerce Predicted

Increasing commerce between Alaskan ports and San Francisco bay is predicted by Maurice D. Leehey, special counsel for the Alaskan shipping board, now in the bay region. Leehey says opening of Alaskan coal mines will mean new tonnage, much of which may come to Eastbay docks for reshipment. High insurance rates, lack of regular passenger service and harbor difficulties are retarding development of Alaskan traffic, Leehey says.

Roos Will Erect Concrete Building

Application for a permit to build a $23,000 one-story concrete building at Grand avenue and Broadway was made today to the building department by Contractor S. G. Jackson for George H. Roos, owner. The building will have five stores and will be joined to the structure which Roos recently built there.

FEBRUARY SALES INCREASE OVER PREVIOUS YEAR

Oakland Makes Good Showing in Report For Twelfth Reserve District.

Retail sales of Oakland, as guaged by reports of representative houses to the Twelfth District Federal Reserve bank, were 8.2 per cent greater in February this year than in February, 1920.

In the district, upon the basis of reports by twenty-five representative stores and mail order houses in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Spokane, Seattle and Salt Lake City, the increase was 8.1 per cent.

These figures were released in the Reserve Bank's statistical department today together with a statement of the trade survey.

RURAL SALES LESS.

"In rural sections," says the report, "largely due to their decreased buying power coincident with the decline in value of farm products, sales were less in amount than a year ago, offsetting the increase in cities, and for the district as a whole sales were 2.9 per cent less by value than in February, 1920."

Continuing, the statement said:

"As the dollar will buy more commodities at present prices than it would have in February, 1920, this figure does not mean that the volume of trade has been smaller. Sales totals for the first two months of this year, expressed in dollars, shows a 3.4 per cent decrease compared with sales during the same period last year. Retail prices are approximately 10 to 30 per cent less than a year ago. It is probable therefore, that a greater volume of merchandise has been turned over this year than last year."

DISTRICT COMPARISON.

The average net February increase or decrease in the value of net sales for the reporting cities is recorded as:

	Feb., 1920.	Jan., 1921.
Los Angeles	14.6	-14.9
San Francisco	.4	7.4
Seattle	-2.4	-12.0
Spokane	12.2	7.3
Oakland	8.2	-11.1
Salt Lake City	6.2	-15.2

The report says further:

"Stocks on hand at the close of February, 1921, were 7.6 per cent less than at the close of same month a year ago, and 2.2 per cent greater than at close of January, 1921. The percentage of outstanding orders at close of February to the total purchases during 1920 was 8.6 per cent compared with 5.4 per cent in January and 5.8 per cent in December.

"Of the reporting firms 48 per cent characterized collections as 'good' in February compared with 66 per cent in January and 50 per cent in December. Collections were reported as 'fair' by 36 per cent of the reporting stores compared with 20 per cent in January."

BUSINESS NOTES

Cuban-American Sugar company stockholders have approved the proposed $10,000,000 eight per cent bond issue.

Bond of the Raisin City school, Fresno county, to the amount of $24,000 at 6 per cent, with maturities from 1922 to 1935, have been put on the market, by houses with offices in Oakland.

H. P. Everett, farm adviser of the Sonoma county unit of the California Cattlemen's association, after a trip of survey through that county, announced that the unit will market 1000 head of cattle in May and June.

It is announced in brokers' reports that the Burlington is to issue $215,000,000 in short term 6½ per cent bonds to refund its joint 4s, due July 1. The new issue will be secured by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific and will have a conversion clause to provide for transfer into a long term issue.

A calculation based upon yesterday's annual report of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation shows the 1920 earnings to have been $13.08 figuring par on common stock.

There are now more than 500 names on the petition to close the New York Stock Exchange Good Friday and Saturday.

Rock Island earnings in January increased $1,961,000 over January, 1919. The net operating deficit, however, was $161,513.

CONFIDENCE IS REAL, NATION RECOVERING

Financial Experts of Country Present That View; Situation Held Never in Doubt

By HOLLAND

Special to the OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, March 23.—James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, has never wavered in his conviction that permanent depression in industry and in business in the United States is inconceivable. During the somewhat dark days of last autumn, Farrell looking ahead, ventured the prediction that in the spring visible evidences of improvement would be furnished. He was anxious to hold our foreign trade and to increase it, saying that about 20 per cent of the products of our industries constitute a surplus after our domestic markets have been supplied. He believed that it would be possible to market this surplus elsewhere than in the United States and this of itself would stabilize our industries.

Although no authoritative report of the conversation which Farrell recently had with President Harding has been made public, yet apparently the President himself intimated that he had been assured by Farrell, and also by other leaders in industry and business, that no longer does real depression prevail. A change has come although there was at no time as serious a depression as some of those who were despondent asserted. The condition was one of doubt because something like an industrial fog prevailed and that caused hesitation. The fog to a great extent has been dissipated.

SPRING REVIVAL.

Increasing activity will be a feature of the spring's industrial life and the number of unemployed will be steadily reduced. Reports come from Washington that in the spring months an improvement, slow but certain, is sure and that we may look with confidence to a considerable revival of healthful industrial activity.

Reports of this kind which were brought to the ears of President Harding a few days ago, are in line with statements which were made last fall b some of the ablest men in American industrial and financial life. They were certain that by mid-spring of 1921, improvement would be reported. They had been studying fundamental conditions both in the United States and in Europe. They were especially impressed by the revelation of the magnitude of our natural resources. They heeded the statement made by the late Theodore N. Vail, who said, a year before his death, that splendid as were the achievements of those who brought great wealth from our natural resources, yet after all these abundant resources only partially had been developed and some of them not yet touched by capital or industry.

WHY THEY WERE CONFIDENT.

Opinions of this kind were reported from time to time in the late fall and early winter. Now President Harding is assured by leaders in the business world that the improvement is really under way and that it will be continued, provided only the administration and the legislators at Washington act with such wisdom as to justify the expansion of industry, foreign trade and business.

In civil war days, when depression prevailed everywhere in the North, and when the Secretary of the Treasury, Governor Chase, was meeting with difficulty or doubt in London and in Amsterdam, where he hoped to market large issuse of government bonds, David A. Wells, published a book which contained the result of his investigation into the natural resources of the United States. This showed that these resources were of such magnitude and wealth producing capacity that the war could be maintained at the heavy yearly cost then entailed for at least ten years without causing serious embarrassment.

When London and Amsterdam read Mr. Wells' book they changed their attitude, accepting the offerings of American bonds because they were assured that the resources of the United States provided a sufficient guarantee for payment of principal and interest.

So it is now that our resources can be so highly developed as to make it certain that the United States will be able to master completely the difficulties which the war and the troubled conditions of Europe have created.

VARIETY OF OPINIONS.

Too much stress, it is said here, should not be placed upon opinions which do not carry the note of encouragement. They are usually based upon incidental or momentary conditions, not reaching to the conditions which are fundamental. That undoubtedly explains the statement made by David R. Forgan, president of the National City Bank at Chicago. A few days ago he is reported to have said in an informal address at Evanston, that the past three months have been filled with reports which show that the general economic conditions of the country are extremely grave. Taken by itself this sentence would be regarded as the thought of a real pessimist. Forgan, however, has never been included in the list of those who take pleasure in being miserable. He explained that statement by saying that the conditions are due to the aftermath of the war and to the fact that Europe, which in other times of financial depression has been a help to us, is now a veritable millstone about our necks. Evidently Forgan believes that Europe, in due time will lighten this burden. If that is his belief it is shared by many others who are of equal authority with himself.

Another Chicago banker, Ralph Van Vechten, who is vice president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank, is fully persuaded that the industrial crisis has passed if there was any real crisis. Corporations now are renewing activities, businessmen have become very hopeful and a slow but steady improvement has begun which will continue throughout the year.

The president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago, who recently has spent some days in New York, reported to his friends in Chicago, that the general feeling throughout the east was one of confidence.

MANILA TO BE MADE A GREAT PORT OF CALL

Plans For Improvement Being Worked Out By Shipping Interests.

By HARRY L. ROGERS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The attention of Major General Leonard Wood is expected to be called on his arrival in the Philippines to the possibilities of Manila as the future center of the shipping interests of the Pacific.

Plans already have been worked out by the United States shipping board and other American shipping interests, it was learned today, for making Manila one of the greatest ports of call in the world and the success or failure of these plans may depend to a great degree upon the report to be rendered by General Wood and Governor W. Cameron Forbes, second member of the commission.

While the program of the shipping board has not been brought officially to the attention of the secretary of war, the war department was represented on an inter-departmental committee which recently made a detailed study of the Philippine question and Secretary Weeks stated today that General Wood's report would deal comprehensively with the development of Manila as a shipping center.

General Wood is understood to have had access to the report of the inter-departmental committee, which was made up of representatives of the shipping board, the war department, the navy and commerce department.

Though reports received here indicate that American capitalists are showing an inclination to hold off on proposed investments in the Far East pending a decision by the Harding administration on the question of Philippine independence, the shipping board for some months has been devoting its attention to the Pacific and already nearly 20 per cent of the total American merchant marine is operating there with a number of new services in contemplation.

The Waterfront

Details of the damage suffered by the S. S. Point Bonita, under charter to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, when she went on the rocks at Cardon Island, near Corinto, Sunday, have not as yet been received here. Captain Preston and his crew of 37 are reported to be in no danger. The big freighter is still held hard and fast, on a rock bottom, according to last reports. She was bound to San Francisco with a general cargo from Baltimore.

The steamer West Keene, also of the Shipping Board, en route to this port, was compelled to put back into Honolulu with engine trouble. The steamer Mobile City was rammed by the Armagh while at anchor in the harbor of Bristol and was badly damaged on her port bow. She has a cargo of freight, loaded on Puget Sound. The Russian Bark Albyn, which left Newport News, October 1, for Gothenburg, is posted as lost by Lloyds in London. From the day she left port no word has been heard from her. The Albyn was formerly a British bark, and under that flag has taken many cargoes of grain from this port to England.

En route from New York for France the Steamer Steel Exporter of the Isthmian Line, ran into the Steamer Willcasino, which was anchored at Red Hook, New York Harbor, the steering gear of the Steel Exporter being put out of commission. Both vessels were slightly damaged. No word has yet been received of the Schooner Harvester, which is now seventy days overdue from Tongo Islands, with copra for Atkins, Knoll and Company. She sailed from that port on November 4, last, and was never seen or heard of since. No hopes are now looked for her crew or the vessel. She is owned by the Charles Nelson Company of this port. The Norwegian Bark Svartskog, which left Newport News October 16 has been given up as lost by the owners, A. C. Stacey and Company. She left that port in command of Captain Nielsen, and has never been heard from. She carried a crew of 15 men, and is the sixth sailing vessel that left Newport News within a year that has been given up for lost.

The motor schooner, Herman, one of the Arctic Ocean traders for the H. Liebes Company, sailed today on her annual voyage. She will stop at Dutch Harbor and Unalaska, where she waits for the ice to clear in Bering Sea, and then calls at Siberian ports before reaching the Arctic Ocean. The Herman has a supply of stores and provisions for the company's stations at Point Barrow and Point Hope.

The blue funnel liner, Teucer, arrived on Puget Sound yesterday from the Orient, and Capt. Arthur L. Gordon reports very heavy weather for the last five days before reaching Cape Flattery, heavy seas washing over the craft, and he was compelled to slow down. No particular damage was done to the vessel.

Out of work and cash, Matthew Zayontz, a carpenter, who arrived here from Eureka two days ago, tried to commit suicide yesterday by jumping overboard from the Ferry Steamer Santa Clara, on her 12:30 trip from Oakland to San Francisco. He was rescued by the crew and brought to San Francisco where he was turned over to the police, who sent him to the Receiving Hospital.

The red stack tug, Sea Lion, is reported by wireless as making good time to this port from Santa Rosalia, with the ex-German bark, Walkure, in tow, and if nothing unforeseen happens they will arrive here on Sunday afternoon, making the fourth German interned sailing craft to be brought here for the Robert Dollar Company.

A new halibut schooner, named Grizzly, was launched today at Lake Union, for the Frank Nordland Company. She is 65 feet in length and equipped with a Diesel engine of 100 horse-power, and will be used for fishing off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

The Schooner Philippine which arrived at Oakland Harbor on March 7, with 420 tons of copra, has discharged and is now ready to go on the drydock at Moore's shipyard.

The Southern Pacific ferry steamer, Alameda, is at the company's shipyard for her annual overhauling, and her run is being taken by the Steamer Newark. The Steamer C. A. Smith will come off the floating drydock at Alameda today and take on her stores and provisions for Coos Bay. She will also take some cargo north.

Molly's Pete Takes Her Honors Easy At U. C. After Record Breaking Hike

Speed Calf Unspoiled by Praise for Her Unequaled 137-Mile Endurnace Run.

Manifesting a lively interest in the festivities attendant upon the fifty-third birthday of the University of California, Molly's Pete, World's Champion Hiking Heifer and Speed Calf Extraordinary, is today enjoying a brief repose after her record breaking run from Davis to Berkeley.

Molly's Pete crossed the tape shortly before noon yesterday. Professor Ed Voorhies, official timekeeper, announced that his stopwatch indicated that Molly's Pete nosed under the wire at 48 seconds before noon, making her running time 95 hours, 59 minutes and 12 seconds. At the finish she was making 2.37 miles an hour. She was accompanied by H. P. Cooper and James Bronson.

The feat performed by Molly's Pete establishes a new record in bovine athletic circles, lowering the record made last year by Molly, the calf's mother, by 1 hour and 32 minutes.

The Super-Speed Calf covered 137 miles in her endurance run. She seems entirely unspoiled by the attentions which have been showered upon her. She announces that she will attend the Davis Farm School picnic to be given at Davis, April 23.

Aids Are Needed in Irish Relief Drive

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Final arrangements are being made today for the Northern California three-day drive for the relief of women and children of Ireland. A meeting was held in the Santa Fe building today to discuss the fixing of a date to begin the drive.

Harry R. Bogart, regional campaign director; William H. McCarthy, San Francisco campaign committee chairman; Richard M. Tobin, chairman for Northern California, and members of the executive committee, took up the subject of naming generals and field captains to engage in the campaign.

Although large numbers of volunteers have already enrolled for service, a great many more are required, according to Bogart, who today urged still larger response to the call.

Chinese Make Move To Stop Tong War

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—In a further endeavor to settle the Tong war which has suspended half the business in San Francisco's Chinatown, a meeting was held this afternoon by the Six Companies at the request of the Young Wo Association. This organization is composed largely of butchers and fish merchants who have been forced to close their places of business through fear of assassination. Half of their members are Suey Dongs and all of them Yung Yings. As two of the Suey Dong tongs have recently been slain, and vengeance sworn on the Yung Yings they are anxious to bring about some sort of settlement.

Postmaster-General Suggests Help Hints

Postmasters are urged to take an active part in the affairs of the local civic organizations in a letter received today by Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough from Postmaster-General Will H. Hays, which also contains suggestions for the improvement of postal service.

Some of the desirable things for improving postal service contained in the letter of the postmaster-general and which have already been used in campaigns of education by the postoffice are:

The importance of addressing mail to street and number; that firm letterheads should bear the street address; that mail should be deposited early and frequently during the day and not held until the close of business; that return addresses on envelopes result in prompt return of letters if undeliverable; that valuable mail matter should be registered; that postal money orders should be used for remittances by mail instead of cash.

COUNCIL DIVIDES ON BOXING PERMIT

Lynne Stanley, manager of the Auditorium carnival on the night of April 13 for the benefit of Athens Athletic club, today approached the City Commissioners regarding an amateur boxing contest as one of the features of the show, the boxers to come from the University of California.

Commissioners Baccus and Morse said they were inclined to consider the plea favorably. Commissioner Soderberg was against it as being a boxing contest.

Stanley said he deplored Soderberg's attitude but would explain the matter more thoroughly to him. Commissioner Edwards, absent from Council today, will also be interviewed.

HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGE.

RAIL AND WATER TERMINAL PLAN TOLD MERCHANTS

Engineer Explains Benefits To Be Derived From Improvement.

The proposed $50,000,000 rail and water terminal to be constructed at the foot of Broadway in Oakland was the subject of a talk by G. P. Gillies, consulting engineer of New York, before the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland last evening. A frontage of four blocks in the vicinity of Fourth and Broadway, and Webster and Washington streets, extending to the waterfront, will be covered by the terminal building, according to the plans.

A special committee was appointed last night to investigate the proposition and report back. The committee consists of the following directors of the Exchange: President I. H. Spiro, Wilber Walker, J. P. Potter and W. H. Graham.

Resolutions were adopted by the Exchange endorsing Assembly Bill No. 692, which is intended to allow the regulation of fire insurance rates. The Alameda County Legislative delegation was urged to use all honorable means to obtain passage of the bill.

The Exchange also went on record as being opposed to the following bills: Assembly Bill No. 692, requiring a tax of 10 per cent on motor vehicles carrying freight and passengers; Senate Bill 655, requiring 10 per cent tax on the sale of motor vehicle tires in the State of California; Senate Bill No. 340, providing for a license fee of 1 cent per gallon on fuel sold for propelling motor vehicles; Assembly Bill No. 1249, requiring the installation of a self starting device on all motor trucks; Assembly Bill No. 726, providing for an exorbitant additional tax on commercial motor vehicles; Senate Bill No. 723, providing for a tax of $200 a ton in addition to the $.40 per horse power fee, on commercial motor trucks; Senate Bill No. 660, requiring the payment of a tax of 7 per cent of the gross receipts for the transportation of merchandise inside or outside of incorporated cities, by motor trucks.

Director Leo Bertillion, chairman of the membership committee of the Merchants' Exchange, outlined his plan for a membership campaign to commence on April 5, with a dinner to be given at the Hotel Oakland.

Hills Club Will Observe Easter

Easter will be observed this year by the Contra Costa Hills club to the extent of omitting its usual personally-conducted Sunday hike in the hills. Individual members will accompany the Sierra club on an eleven-mile tramp across the watersheds of Wildcat and San Pablo creeks, starting from Euclid avenue and Rose street, Berkeley, at 9:30 a. m., to Canyon Toyon, on the easterly slope of Baldy.

ATTEMPT TO ROB BROKERS' OFFICES IS TOLD POLICE

Burglars and Thieves Reported Busy; Value of Loot Is Small.

Attempted robbery of the offices of C. L. Colvin, George E. Jackson and J. R. Pereira, loan and investment brokers, 325 Central National Bank building, was bared by the police today. J. E. Carlson, who occupies an adjoining office, reported that some one had entered and stolen a clock from his desk over the week-end.

The offices at 325 were entered and thoroughly ransacked, but no articles of value were taken. That the thief or thieves were searching for a combination to the safe is the theory of the police.

A score of other thefts and burglaries are reported.

More than $500 in jewelry was stolen from the room of Ella M. Drumm at the St. Paul hotel, 534 Twelfth street, last night, according to her report to the police.

Valuable foreign coins hidden in the pocket of a suit, 75 cents from a child's bank and one bottle of rare old whisky comprised the loot of the thief who cut himself on the glass when he entered the home of Charles M. Nash, 776 Sixty-fifth street, by breaking the kitchen window last night.

Mrs. Walter Runchel, 271 Twenty-sixth street, reported that while she was away in the country a thief entered her home and departed with one suit of clothes.

S. Cousetle, 489 Ninth street, hired an expressman to take a trunk, a suitcase and a phonograph to 622 Broadway, he told the police today. He went to the latter address to await their arrival. He is still waiting.

B. Bossa reported that his room at 710 Clay street was entered and clothes and $100 in jewelry taken.

The home of Charles G. Yale at 287 Euclid avenue, Oakland, was entered while Mrs. E. A. Porter, the caretaker, was away, she reported to the police today. As Yale is ill in a San Francisco hospital an estimate as to the value of the loot is not available.

Club To Hear Laws Of Crime Discussed

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—The Commonwealth Club of California will hear a discussion of the effect of modern methods of dealing with convicts at the club's dinner meeting at the Hotel St. Francis tomorrow. The club's section on delinquency, of which William S. Wollner is chairman, has prepared the program.

Probation will be discussed by Augustin C. Kean, Andrew Y. Wood, president of the San Francisco probation board, and Captain Duncan Matheson of the San Francisco police department. The indeterminate sentence will be discussed by Charles L. Neumiller, president state board of prison directors, and Justice Curtis D. Wilbur. Superior Judge Louis H. Ward will speak of penal methods in their relation to crime waves.

Pressure at the center of the earth is so great that air in a room 13 by 17 by 8 feet would be compressed to a space of one cubic inch.

Sleuth's Makeup Aids Policeman In Making Arrest

DISGUISED with a limp and with his face begrimed and wearing overalls to avoid recognition, Charles Appledorn of the police morals squad last night arrested Jacquin Tavares, 1500 Fifth street, on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

According to Appledorn, Tavares has been a constant violator, but up until last night had succeeded in evading officers. With his disguise, Appledorn managed to gain entrance to the place just as Tavares was alleged to have sold a customer a drink of "liquid dynamite."

MUNICIPAL BAND TO OPEN SUMMER CONCERTS SUNDAY

Easter Sunday will see the opening of the summer season of musical concerts by the Municipal band under direction of Paul Steindorff.

Because of repeated requests from citizens the park board has advised Manager Henry Vogt of the band to get it ready to start Easter, and Steindorff is now mobilizing his 38 musicians for a special Easter program.

The concert will be held at 2:30 at the municipal boathouse, Fifteenth and Oak streets. The boathouse was chosen because the grass about the municipal band stand is heavy and wet, allowing no comfort to an audience, while the boathouse has accommodations for a big crowd.

The series of concerts will run without interruption until autumn.

VIENNA, March 23.—One by one the private palaces of the former royal families are being sold for baser uses. The latest is that of the former Archduke Franz Salvator which is to be converted into a garage with a capacity of 1000 cars. The purchase price was 67,000,000 crowns, or about $110,000.

PETERSEN CASE BOBS UP AGAIN; LID NOW TIGHT

Civil Service Board Announces That All Testimony Is Concluded.

The Petersen case was reopened again for a few minutes last night by the Civil Service Board, which decided to accept as testimony a certain report by Lieutenant William F. Woods, put it into the case, closed the lid, and announced that this was the real, final conclusion of the taking of testimony.

The Woods testimony, concerning operations of the morals squad, was introduced by Deputy City Attorney Arthur D. Thomson, as a rebuttal to certain minor testimony by Walter J. Petersen, who cited that vice conditions became worse after he left the police department.

Attorney B. J. Wyman, for Petersen, objected to the Woods script being added to the records, saying it was "incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial," and the case was closed anyhow. The Woods exhibit was added to several hundred exhibits and letters which accumulated during the twenty hearings of Petersen's appeal against dismissal.

Balked in securing from the city council a $3500 appropriation for a transcript of all the Petersen testimony, the Civil Service Board announced last night that it will go over the notes and letters and exhibits as well as possible, calling in the stenographers to read their notes on testimony which is conflicting.

In this way, it was asserted, the reporters of the case need only be paid for their time while actually before the board, and possibly the board's memory can be refreshed almost as well as if it had a transcript, although it is admitted that this plan is an experiment.

The board holds its next session next Tuesday night.
